RULE OF THUMB.

It is customary for women to measure yard lengths by their thumbs. The expression "sixteen nails make a yard" seems to point to the thumbnail as a standard, just as the words "Cluze Patent Thumb" point to the Cluze Glove as the established model of perfection.

A glove that preserves and improves trade is the standard that supports a glove department Such is the Cluze Patent Thumb.

THE PLATFORM

Now Being Moulded Into Shape.

It Will Give Finance Great Prominence,

Not Forgetting to Touch Upon Other Measures.

A Scheme to Practically Settle Matters in Caucuses.

When the Convention Meets the Work Will be Brief, but Decidedly of a Silvery Cast.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Notwithstanding the convention is still four days off, there are almost continuous conferences among those who expect to be called upon to make the platform when it is made. They consist largely of the free silver leaders who are located at the Sherman house. Their plans all look to preparing a document which, while it will cover various other questions of democratic faith, will give the place of prominence to the financial declaration.

It is indeed now expected that the platform will be a silver pronunciamento, setting forth the free coinage doctrine in the form of a ringing address which will appeal to the support of all silver advocates of whatever party. The gist of the plank will, however, be an unequivocal declaration for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without awaiting the action of any other nation.

The tariff plank is really giving the silver majority more concern than the financial declaration. They consider this a very delicate matter. The silver question is recognized by all as the paramount issue, but the democracy has been so persistent in its declarations on the tariff and the republicans made it so prominent in their platform that they realize the impossibility of ignoring it. This they would gladly do if they could for this one time, because of the effect that a declaration leaning too pronouncedly towards free trade would have upon the republican silver men and populists, whose votes they hope to secure with a free silver candidate. So far as there has been an exchange of opinion, the tendency is decidedly towards a very brief and not a very pronounced declaration on this point. The leaders feel that the financial question is one requiring a declaration of principle, but that the tariff is a proper subject to play politics upon. They will probably announce adherence to democratic traditions on this subject, though in very general terms, and announce the belief that with the mintage of silver, the present tariff will produce sufficient revenue for the needs of the government. There may be a declaration for a more equitable adjustment than that contained in the present law, with the hope of reconciling the wool and lumber men of the west. The plank may even contain an implied reconcilement to protection in words indicating that any tariff, even though for revenue only is a protection to labor. Judge Powers, of the Utah delegation, has submitted from that delegation the following draft of a tariff plank:

"We favor the imposition of duties to meet the demands of the government for revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country and not to discriminate against classes and sections."

Judge Powers expresses the opinion that a declaration of this character would be satisfactory to the west and also that it would meet all the demands of the situation and of democratic faith.

It was taken subatantially from a report by Secretary Walker and embodies the principles on which the Walker tariff was based.

THE GOLD STANDARD MOVEMENT.

With the exception of the active work of the local gold standard men, the movement in that direction lies dormant today and will remain in that condition until the arrival of the eastern gold standard men late this afternoon. Chairman Harrity has refused to be very active in the cause until the arrival of his eastern conferees, because as the head of the national committee he will, in a measure, have to aid in deciding what is now the knotty point between the gold standard and the silver men, the selection of a temporary chairman. On this matter there seems to be a division even among the silver men.

Senator Blackburn, an active silver man and a presidential candidate, while proclaiming against any gold standard man wielding the gavel at the convention, tempers his remarks with the statement that he is equally opposed to any gag law or the rushing of the convention by those in control. He said this morning:

"The men who are coming to fight for gold are good democrats and as such are entitled to a hearing be'ore the convention. The republican convention gave a respectful hearing to the silver men, even though they knew that their party was to be disrupted and there is no reason why we should not do the same."

On the other hand, there are those who urge that the previous question should be moved on all motions and that the gold standard advocates should not be allowed to state their views. Chairman Harrity, who will call the convention to order, refuses to say today whether he will rule that speeches are in order or not prior to the selection of a temporary chairman. At that time no rules will have been adopted for the government of the convention, the congressional rules having to be adopted by resolution.

The silver men who are opposed to Senator Hill or any other gold standard man, say they will move the adoption of the rules prior to the selection of a chaiman, but Mr. Harrity says that his only business is to call the convention together and then name the national committee's choice for temporary chairman. If the name mentioned is one that meets with the disapproval of the silver men, they will move a substitute and then move the previous question. All then depends upon whether the chairman of the national committee will recognize this call for the previous question in the absence of rules. If he refuses and the gold standard men are allowed to talk then there will doubtless be an exciting scene. The easterners have among them several skilled parliamentarians and there are also some clever men among the southern and western delegates.

The rank and file of the silver men are almost rabid in their eagerness to control and there may be great trouble. But all this surmise of approaching and apprehended trouble may be abrogated by an amicable arrangement between the national committee and the silver men. Some of the silver leaders are urging that there is no harm to come to their cause by having Hill as chairman of the temporary organization, for by a majority they can overrule his rulings. Vice Presiden Stevenson is mentioned today as a possibility and his name is received with more favor than Hill's.

NOMINATION MAY BE SETTLED IN CAUCUS.

There is talk among the free silver leaders of calling a caucus of their forces before the convention for the purpose of fixing a slate. Should this be done, Governor Altgeld's idea of a "one day" convention may be carried into effect.

W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Illinois state central committee and delegate at large, says that there is a strong sentiment among the free silver delegates now in the city in favor of such a caucus. "But even should there be no caucus," he continued, "I have an idea that the work of the convention can be wound up in a single day. As I figure it out, the silver candidates for the nomination for president will be Bland, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews and McLean. Of these, I rather incline to the belief that Boies and Bland will get the bulk of the votes and that whoever has the greatest number of votes on the first ballot will be nominated on the second. As to the gold men, I don't think we have anything to fear of them. As soon as they get here and circulate among the delegates they will have political sagacity enough to see they are in a hopeless minority and that to make a fight would be butting their heads against a brick wall with an idea of battering it down. The majority of the democrats of the country are for free silver and it has always been the policy of the democrats to allow the majority to rule."

To Mr. Hinrichsen's motion, C. S. Thomas, national committeeman from Colorado, and chairman of the delegation from that state, stands a good show of being selected temporary chairman. "It is quite possible," Mr. Hinrichsen went on to say, "that the temporary organization will be made permanent. This will be done for the purpose of expediting business."

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

It has been determined, so far as such a matter can be in advance of the meeting of the national committee, that the committee will select for temporary chairman some man who is not identified with the silver movement, although he may have leanings toward silver. It is apparent from the talk of the members of the committee who are here that they do not like the terms which the silver men laid down for the subcommittee, and they feel that the national committee should not be dictated to in this matter by some outside organization. Ben T. Cable, member of the national committee for Illinois, who was not at the meeting of the subcommittee when the delegation of silver leaders appeared there, says he is opposed to having the democratic national committee swerve from its usual custom in the selection of a temporary chairman, and if the convention does not like the committee's selection, it will have the right to vote in another man. It seems to be the opinion that the committee will be going far outside its custom to submit to a faction of the party the selection of a presiding officer.

L. Victor Baughman, of Maryland, who is the proxy for Senator Gorman on the national committee, was at the national committee headquarters today and announced that he believes in carrying out the customs of the party, and has no hesitation in saying that he believes the democratic national committee has the interests of the party too much at heart to even attempt to take any unfair advantage at

CRISIS NEAR AT HAND.

Serious Labor Troubles Occur at Cleveland.

One Man Accidentally Killed—More Trouble and Riots are Expected Tonight.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 3.—Conditions at the Brown Hoisting company's works this morning indicated that the crisis was near at hand and that tonight would be the witness of one of the most serious labor troubles the city has ever experienced. Despite the riots and the killing of William Retger last evening quite a number of nonunion men appeared at the works this morning and took their places in the shops. The police were on hand in large numbers, but there was no indication of immediate trouble. The feeling of unrest among the workmen in the manufacturing district is more intense than it has been at any stage of the strike. Groups of men on their way to work idled along the streets to denounce the police and the soldiers. The feeling against Mayor McKisson and his cabinet is very bitter.

The body of William Rettger, who was killed last night, has been removed to his father's home on Hoadley street and many of his old fellow workmen came to view the remains. Many shed tears, but when the men left the house and saw the blue coats they cursed and many a threatening remark was passed. The funaral of Rettger will take place from the church of The Immaculate conception on Sunday and it will undoubtedly be one of the largest ever held in the city. Every workingman in the city will be invited to attend and invitations will also be sent to every union in northern Ohio. The men will wear the white ribbon and it is thought that they will turn out 20,000 or 30,000 men.

Rettger met his death in this way: Albert G. Saunders, a young student at Case School of Applied Science, whose father lives at No. 331 Prospect street, has been working for the Brown company during vacation for the practical knowledge it would give him. He did not leave with the non union men under police guard, but mounted his bicycle and sought to reach home alone. As he turned up Hamilton street a knot of strikers saw him and shouted to him to stop. He did not obey them and they began to throw stones and bricks at him. A brick struck him on the head and knocked him off his wheel, and he claims that after he was down they continued to stone him. Rising to his knees he drew his revolver and fired. The ball missed his assailants, sped across a vacant lot and buried itself in the breast of William Rettger, one of the strikers, who was walking through an alley with several companions. Rettger was sent to a hospital, where he died in a few minutes. He was a single man, twenty-five years old, boarding on Hoadly street, and was a brother of Pitcher Rettger, of the Milwaukee base ball club.

The Structural Iron Workers' union will hold a meeting today and action will be taken condemning the mayor and the police in the strongest terms. Many of the shops will close earlier today than usual in order that the men can be on hand. Several companies of militia are under arms at their various armories throughout the city and will be on the scene tonight when the men come out of the Brown works.

There is a feeling of great unrest among the employes of the Cleveland City Railway company. Last night when Company F boarded a car to go to the center of the city, the conductor promptly stepped off and refused to conduct a car which carried soldiers. The mayor's proclamation forbidding all persons from congregating in the vicinity of the Brown works, was posted in various places about the city this morning.

Eugene V. Debs has been asked by telegraph to deliver the funeral oration Sunday over the remains of the striker who was shot and killed in last night's riot.

The non-union men were escorted out of the works at noon by the police without serious trouble. It was, of course, supposed by the strikers and their sympathizers that the plant would not close down until the usual hour, at 5 o'clock, and this step on the part of the company and authorites will undoubtedly prevent any further rioting today.

SOUND MONEY MEN.

The Pennsylvania Delegation En Route to Chicago.

Their Train Bears a Banner With the Legend, "Pattison and Sound Money."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 3.—The Pennsylvania delegates from this city and the eastern counties of the state, together with a number of friends, left on a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at 8:30 this morning for Chicago, to attend the democratic national convention. The train is made up of a combination baggage and refreshment car, four sleepers and a dinning car. The locomotive and cars were decorated with flags and bunting and on the side of the cars was a huge piece of canvass bearing the motto, "Pattison and sound money." Among the prominent democrats on the train are Collector of Internal Revenue Wm. H. Doyle, Surveyor of the Port P. Gray Meeksin, United States Naval Officer J. Marshal Wright; Ben. F. Meyers, of Harrisbug; W. D. Bigler, of Clearfield; J. T. Lenahan, Wilkesbarre; M. C Eby, Harrisburg; Col. A. M. Holding, West Chester, and Magistrates Carr and Wilhner. At Lancaster and Harrisburg other delegates will be picked up. At Tyrone, a special car having on board a party of thirty as guests of Senator J. Henry Cochrane, of Williamsport, will be attached to the train. Among the prominent party men of the state who will occupy this car are William B. Given, of Columbia; William Dent, of Brookland; J. J. Reardon, of Williamsport, and Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg. All the tourists wear handsome red badges, surmounted by a white and gold cross bar, bearing the word "Pennsylvania," with a picture of ex Governor Pattison on white celluloid suspended.

BLAND'S BOOM.

The Silver Senator Will Have a Big One.

Kansas and Missouri Democrats Making Extensive Preparations to Go to Chicago.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—Extensive preparations are making to carry Missouri and Kansas Bland supporters to Chicago by the thousands. Col. Joseph Mercer, delegate to the national convention from this district, left for Chicago last night to perfect arrangements for the reception of these men in Chicago. The local Bland club has already established headquarters here for the delegates and others bound for Chicago from the outlying cities and towns are being cared for. Kansas democrats who are going on what has been named the "Bland special," will arrive in Kansas City Sunday morning, and letters are being received every day by the club from Kansas and Missouri points noting the intentions of dozens of clubs to go at the same time. It is estimated that the train which will leave over the Alton at 5:45 p. m. Sunday next will carry fully 800 people. Three other Bland specials, one from southern Missouri and two from St. Louis, which will carry an aggregate of about 1,800 passengers, will meet the Kansas City section at Bloomington, Ill. There they will be made up into one monster train and run on to Chicago, drawn by five engines. The regalia of the Bland club will be straw hats and blue satin and medallion badges with the picture of Mr. Bland suspended from a silver bar and surmounted by two eagles.

LEBANON, Mo., July 3.—Bland's friends here are supremely confident of his nomination and they are preparing headquarters from which his campaign will be conducted. Three large rooms have been secured as offices and the Western Union Telegraph company has put in two extra wires to handle the convention business and press dispatches. Mr. Bland's mail has reached large proportions and he spends half the day dictating letters. If Mr. Bland is nominated, Lebanon, it has been planned, will have the biggest celebration any town in Missouri has ever witnessed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—The Kansas City Times, which has heretofore been pronounced in its advocacy of the gold standard and unwavering in its support of the Cleveland administration, comes out this morning with an editorial practically admitting that the silver men have already won a victory at Chicago and pledging the Times to support the nominees of the convention. In conclusion, the Times states its position in a word, as follows:

"For the democratic party, its platform and its candidates; its platform whatever it is, its candidates, whoever they may be." In addition to the editorial there appears on the first page a three column portrait of Richard P. Bland, under this caption: "For president of the United States 'Silver Dick' Bland, of Missouri."

POLICE CHANGES.

Officer Dickson Given a New Beat on Calhoun Street.

A new police arrangement was made on Calhoun street this morning. Station Master Romy began work this morning and Officer Greer, who had been acting as station master, was assigned to Officer Dickson's beat from Calhoun street to Lafayette street. Bobby Dickson was given a new beat. He is now stationed all day long on Calhoun street, from the Nickel Plate to the Pittsburg depot. He is not to leave Calhoun street, but his duty is to watch the business center of the city. Most of his time is to be spent near the banks and the transfer corner. This new arrangement is a good one and Officer Dickson is the right man for the new beat.

MURDERER HUNG.

Solomon Marable Met His Fate at Farmville, Va.

FARMVILLE, Va., July 3.—Solomon Marable was hanged here at 9.57 o'clock this morning for the murder of Mrs. Lucy Jane Pollard on June 14 1895. He met his fate calmly and on the scaffold reiterated his oft repeated statement that Mrs. Pollard was murdered by a white man. Death was caused by strangulation. Marable was pronounced dead eighteen and one-half minutes after the drop fell, but was allowed to hang thirty-five minutes The execution was in the jail and was witnessed by only a few citizens Three negro women are alleged to have been accomplices in the Pollard murder, which aroused the whole state of Virginia. Of the three, a nolle pros has been entered as to Pokey Barnes; Mary Abernathy has been sentenced to hang, but execution has been stayed by an order of court, and Mary Barnes is serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary.

PENSION DECISIONS.

Many New Points Adjudicated by the Government

In Cases Which Came Up to the Interior Department From the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Many new points in the adjudication of pension claims are established in decisions rendered by Assistant Secretary Reynolds, of the interior department. All the cases came up on appeal from the pension bureau. Following is a summary of the new rulings:

The widow of an additional paymaster is pensionable under section 3, act of June 27, 1890. Where shown that a soldier was sound at enlistment and died in regimental hospital of disease, the exact character and nature of the disease not being shown, the testimony being conflicting, it will be presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary that he died of disease contracted in the service and line of duty. Death resulting from the morphine habit, though contracted by using the drug, to relieve pain, caused by a malady contracted in the service and line of duty, on the soldier's own responsibility, cannot be accepted as due to service in the line of duty.

Where a pension is granted to a widow on account of a minor child of her deceased husband, has been terminated because the child had attained its sixteenth year, and the child has been continously, since its sixteenth year, insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless, pension may be allowed it subject to the right as minors of other children of the deceased father to participate with it in such pension during their minority after the termination of the widow's right to pension from the date of filing application therefore subsequent to June 27, 1890, upon proof of its trouble.

Provision is made to prevent loss of pension by mistakes in applications. It is held, under the famous "June 27" act, that the pension must commence from the date of the filing of the original application, provided pensionable disability is proved. In the case of C. B. Guchess, a Michigan veteran, Judge Reynolds says, in sustaining the right of a pensioner under the June 27 act to receive a pension under the general law, the former providing sufficient guard against double payment:

"Wherever the act of June 27, 1890, is employed, it must be to the soldier's benefit. And since that benefit is liable to suffer defeat through the use of section 4715, revised statutes, to compel an election by the pensioner, such section being plainly repugnant to the act designed to convey benefit to the pensioner cannot be employed."

IMPORTANT EVENT.

Centennial Anniversary to be Held at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—Instead of formally celebrating Independence day Detroit will, a week later, celebrate the centennial anniversary of the evacuation, by the British, of Detroit and the northwest territory. The governors of all the northwestern states, with their staffs, have been invited, as have also the president and cabinet, members of the United States supreme court, most of the foreign ambassadors, and many other distinguished men. The chief orator of the day will be Governor O'Ferrall, of Virginia, who will be accompanied by his staff.

The main exercises will be held in and about the new incompleted government building, which stands upon a portion of the very sight of old Fort Lernoult, afterward called Fort Shelby, which was the structure evacuated by the British on July 11, 1796.

By this act the northwest territory first came into possession of the United States. The treaties of 1782 and '83 provided for the surrender of the western territory by the English, but the evacuation of Detroit did not take place until thirteen years later, having been delayed by pretexts of unsettled claims and protests of traders. Jays final treaty, made in 1794 provided for the evacuation of Detroit on or before June 1, 1796, and the actual surrender took place July 11. The exercises will consist of unveiling a memorial tablet in the entrance of the federal building, historical addresses and Governor O'Ferral's oration and a parade of federal and state troops and naval batallions and other military and patriotic organizations.

Case Against Sunday Ball Players.

Tebeau Acquitted by a Jury of Twelve.

The Law and the Evidence in the Case—Other Cases Will be Pushed.

The jury in the case of the state against George Tebeau, one of the Fort Wayne base ball club, against the members of which charges had been preferred for playing base ball on Sunday, was finally secured about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and consisted of the following persons:

Paul Wolf, Charles Sauer, George McCrory, Simon Friestoffer, Michael Kennelly, John Cashnan, Joseph Darling, Joseph Oddou, J. H. Rahe, Wm. Love, William Burke and Fred Lahmier.

Immediately after the jury had been secured Justice Tancey told them to stand up, hold up their hands and be sworn. This they did, and the justice administered to them an oath in which they solemnly obligated themselves to decide the case brought against George Tebeau according to the law and the evidence.

Prosecuting Attorney N. D. Doughman then explained to them the nature of the case which had been brought against the defendant, it being for unlawfully engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday last at Lakeside park, at which an admittance was charged to those who were the spectators, and read to them the law, as laid down in the latest revised statutes of Indiana, which is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to engage in playing a game of base ball where an admittance fee is charged, or where any reward or prize, or profit, or article of value is depending upon the result of such game, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, and every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty five dollars."

The first witness called was Wes. Smith. He testified that he had attended the game last Sunday; that he had paid an admittance fee at the gate, and that George Tebeau, the defendant, was one of the players. Rev. James S. Ainslie, Rev. C. C. Cissell and George Waldschmidt testified to the same facts, and then Wm. Meyer, jr., the manager of the Fort Wayne base ball club, was placed on the stand for the defense, he being the only witness examined by the defendant's lawyer, Sam L. Morris. His testimony was merely to show that Tebeau was employed at a salary by the club to play during the season, and he admitted that the game was played last Sunday and that Tebeau was one of the players.

This finished the testimony and then Mr. Doughman and Mr. Morris argued the case to the jury. Mr. Morris spoke of about everything else except the facts in the case. He wandered down into South Carolina and back into the days of the Puritanical fathers and said that he taught his boy that there was nothing wrong in attending base ball games on Sunday. He believed that it was a rest and recreation, and that if there was more of this kind of Sunday recreation the world would be better and happier. He laid particular stress upon the fact that Tebeau was only an employe of the club and that therefore he should not be fined, although he was plainly guilty of having violated the Indiana statutes by engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday.

Mr. Doughman then spoke for the state. He said there were but two points in the case—what was the law, and did the defendant violate it. He again read the statute quoted above. This, he said, was as plain as it could possibly be, and clearly and unmistakably covered the case on trial. The fact that the defendant did play on Sunday at a game at which an admittance fee was charged was beyond dispute and, therefore, he asked the jury to take the law and the evidence and return a verdict according to both, as by their oaths they had obligated themselves to do.

The jury retired at a few minutes after 5 o'clock and were out about two hours. On the first ballot they stood seven for acquittal and five for a fine. At 7 o'clock a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant.

In finding for the defendant the jury undoubtedly laid aside the law and evidence and decided the case altogether upon their individual notions that there was nothing wrong in playing a game of base ball on Sunday at which an admission fee was charged. The law was as plain as a big nose on a little man's face and the evidence was equally clear. Nobody could reasonably deny that, and yet Constable Lindsay's picked jury refused to be governed by either, and returned a verdict of not guilty. Lawyers generally regard the case as the biggest kind of a legal farce and a travesty on justice.

There are eight other cases pending against the members of the Fort Wayne team and nine against the members of the Saginaw team, and these, it is the intention of the prosecution, to push to trial. The first of these cases will be tried next Monday morning. Prosecutor Doughman will be compelled to leave the city, and J. H. Aiken, assisted by J. B. Harper, will represent the state.

FORTY-FIVE STARS

Now Dot the Blue Field on Our Flag.

The Additional One Represents the Admission of Utah Into the Sisterhood.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—For the first time tomorrow the flag of the United States will float with forty-five stars on its blue field, indicating the admission of Utah to the sisterhood of states. General orders issued by the war and navy departments have prepared the way for the change and for some time past the flag makers have been busy in placing a new star on the flags in stock. From economical considerations the old army flags will not be retired at once, but will be replaced only as they are worn out in the service by the new ensigns. In the case of the naval flags the change was more easily made, for all of these flags are made at the New York and Mare Island navy yards, while those on hand on shipboard may be readily altered by the expert sail makers.

BICYCLE RACES.

The State L. A. W. Meet Opens Here Today.

There are hundreds of bicyclists in the city today to attend the annual race meet of the Indiana division of the L. A. W. The race program begins this afternoon at the Fort Wayne Driving park. The races include city, district and state championships. The program of the races and the list of prizes, as well as the arrangements for the meet have all been published in THE SENTINEL.

JOHN MOHR, JR.

He is Now in Italy and Writes "The Sentinel" a Letter.

Mr. John Mohr, jr., the cashier of the Hamilton National bank of this city, who is making a pleasure tour of Europe, writes THE SENTINEL a letter from Pisa, Italy, which we will publish tomorrow. Mr. Mohr is a versatile and interesting writer and his letter will be generally read.

LOCAL LINES

Dr. J. H. Kappel will go to Chicago Monday to attend the national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. George Quidore have returned from a two weeks' outing at Rome City.

Mrs. T. Stegmeyer and little daughter will leave today to spend a week in Chicago with her parents.

C. M. Dodge, superintendent of the Foster Furniture factory, has gone to Grand Rapids, Mich., for a few days.

Mr. Ramsey, of South Dakota, is visiting relatives in this city and county. He is accompanied by his little daughter.

The K. of P. lodges of this city are arranging for a joint excursion and basket picnic at Robison park on a date yet to be determined.

Miss Vernie McKee, of Erie, Pa., is in the city on her way to spend the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Browand, at Rome City.

John Schoodler, a drunk, was arrested by Officer Truebenbach on Broadway, last night, and this morning Mayor Scherer sent him to jail for eleven days.

Rabbi Hirschberg and Herman Freiburger left today for Chicago. Rabbi Hirschberg will return in about two weeks and continue his visit with friends here.

Orange and black, the colors of the Triange Cycle club, under whose auspices the state bicycle race meet is being held, are conspicuous throughout the city today.

The students of the International Business college will give an entertainment this evening at the college hall in the Schmitz block. A good program has been arranged.

A grand private display of fireworks is being arranged for tomorrow night by the residents on East Washington street, between Barr and Lafayette streets. The affair will take place in the front yard of the residence of Mr. E. K. Dorr, that gentleman being assisted by Mr. Henry Beadell and others in letting off the display, which promises to be superb.

The team belonging to Diederick Rodenbeck, of Adams township, ran away on Maumee avenue yesterday morning and caused some excitement. After running wildly for several blocks, during which Mr. Rodenbeck was thrown out, the runaways dashed up against a tree at Hayden park and their flight was checked. Mr. Rodenbeck was not injured beyond a few slight bruises.

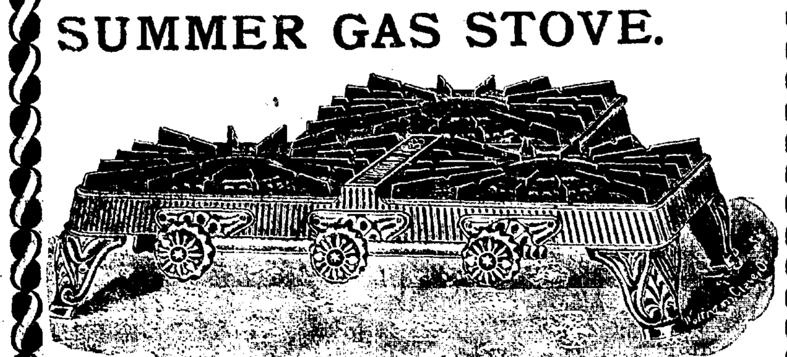

Albert Faust, an employe of the Kerr Murray works, had a narrow escape from death this morning. He was hauling dirt at the corner of Columbia and Clay streets, and as he was fastening the endgate in his wagon his horses started to back and went down the river bank. Mr. Faust was rolled over, but succeeded in getting out of the tangle. He cut the harness and liberated the horse, and thus saved the entire outfit from being damaged.

Go to Miss Flick's tomorrow and drink ice cream soda among the beautiful flowers and palms. This is the coolest and most delightful place in the city on a warm day. All crushed fruits tomorrow 5c. Remember the place, Miss Flick's, No 33 West Berry street.

The Men Who Gave Us Liberty.

The Declaration of Independence, the anniversary of which we as a nation celebrate tomorrow, is taken as virtually the work of one member of the congress which adopted it, Thomas Jefferson. Various efforts have been made to attribute the authorship to Thomas Paine and possibly others, but no one familiar not merely with the writings, but the well known beliefs and convictions of Jefferson, can doubt that the Declaration was his handiwork, but the Declaration as adopted was not entirely the instrument as written. Jefferson was an easy writer with great command of written words, and his fault was redundancy. It is the Declaration pruned down, chastened, as it were, sobered and relieved of what might pass for surplusage, injudiciousness and declamation that reflects the character of the great congress which adopted it.

The expression used in the first paragraph of the Declaration throws a clear and vivid light on the individual and collective character of the "singers." "A decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires," etc. Our fathers were "decent" men and did care for the "opinions of mankind." They were not arrogant and self sufficient political theorists and know it alls; they did not claim to be inspired seers, or the apostles of a new political creed, and there is nothing in their proclamation about a new world, or a new dispensation, or a new anything to be achieved by their declaration or effort. They were sensible men resolved to proceed "decently and in order" and actuated by a "decent respect to the opinions of mankind."

The general statement of their motives and principles is followed by a "bill of particulars" in the shape of a clear and vigorous statement of the various injuries the colonies have received from the royal government, but this nowhere degenerates into degrading self-allusions. The "signers" do not speak of themselves as "down trodden" nor as "crushed," nor do they anywhere call themselves "slaves." They did not dream that any American would ever do that.

And then there is the peroration of the Declaration, "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Thus speaks the patriot and gentleman and if need be the soldier: "God for us. This is our declaration and we pledge to it and to each other our support, as men having lives of value and fortunes and sacred honor to maintain, our all, which is comprised in life, fortune and honor."

Good men, those signers of the Declaration of Independence. They stood out in the light where all men saw them. They were known, all of them, to their neighbors before they went to Philadelphia. They were not obscurities and nonentities and nobodies, scum thrown to the surface of the waves in the noise and the dark. They were not rioters and conspirators; there was no secret circular; no dagger and no dynamite about them. They were men with a "decent regard for the opinions of mankind" and who had "sacred honor" to pledge.

It would be a good and proper thought for each and every American before the day passes, if he has not time to read the Declaration of Independence itself, to at least run his eye over the brief list of the men who signed it, and reflect on what manner of men they were. For monuments most of them have the map of the United States. Their names are preserved in counties and cities and towns, in rivers that shall flow and mountains that shall stand forever; in institutions of learning and all institutions for the use and benefit of the people. The "signers," after they had performed this supreme act of their lives, lived in usefulness and honor, nearly every one distinguishing himself in the service of his country. They were ambassadors and soldiers and financiers and educators and lawyers and doctors and ministers and pioneers, and above all, founders of a great and imperishable nation which has leared the priceless lesson that the only sure foundation is the truth that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." Having done this they rest from their labors and a world which does not remember all the names, yet follows where they led.

Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, her life, her work and her fame, belonged so entirely to a generation past that the announcement of her death awakens only reminiscences. Her literary reputation, that was at one time greater than her purely literary achievement merited, has sunk to a level much below her deserts, the not unusual penalty of one great success that overshadows work less significant yet of greater artistic endurance.

Mrs. Stowe devoted many years to the practice of novel writing and the novels which she wrote in her prime, with accurate knowledge and observation of the New England life into which she was born and with well trained literary skill, were among the strongest that any American woman at that time had done; yet the whole series of them, from "The Minister's Wooing" to "Poganuc People," are all but forgotten today as we recall that first crude, artificial melodrama that flashed red hot from the young New England woman's imagination, stimulated by the fierce controversy amid which she lived, and lighted a flame of antislavery sentiment that was not quenched until slavery was destroyed.

It would be difficult for one reading "Uncle Tom's Cabin" now, and considering it as literature, to understand the impression that it made forty odd years ago. There had been descriptions of slave life and polemics against slavery quite as outspoken, but they had reached the ears only of a few. The great mass of the people supposed them to be prejudiced or exaggerated, and at all events it was not worth while to get excited about what had always been and must be. Mrs. Stowe gave to the abstract appeals of the abolitionists a concrete form and force; she made it a personal concern. She was not merely denouncing the possible wrongs of unknown masses; she was portraying the wrongs and sufferings of individuals, that appealed to the human sympathy of men and women everywhere.

Not all the orators, the preachers, the pamphleteers, the journalists together, had made so far reaching an impression as was made by this scarcely known novelist. The southern people denounced the story as libelous, as in great part it doubtless was; but it hit the mark. Sedate readers in the north, less accustomed than we are now to polemical novels, regarded it coldly or with antipithy. But it was read, and discussed and talked about, and in New England and the west particularly the public accepted and believed it and took up the cause of Uncle Tom and his comrades with a fervor they never could have felt for the wrongs of an entire race.

Of all the brave soldiers in those preliminary battles against slavery in America that led up to and prepared for its final overthrow, it is thus possible to speak of Mrs. Stowe as second to none in the effectiveness of the blow she struck. Critically viewed, her success was more in time and occasion than in purpose and skill, for the sequel to "Uncle Tom" was not a success and her subsequent literary work took a different range and her later polemical efforts were altogether futile. None the less in that first fervid deliverance she fired a shot heard round the world, and she had the rare fortune to live long enough not only to gain the personal reward of her work, but to perceive its public fruits.

The conditions she described have disappeared, and if their memory survives, it is mainly through the medium of her book. She survived as well the animosities that the book excited or out of which it grew, and though her last years were clouded otherwise, the clouds could not obscure the sunshine of affectionate esteem by which she was surrounded.

A Strange Case.

The Boston Globe has had a symposium on the subject of the possibility of miracles at the present day. Most of the contributors are preachers. Some contend that miracles are just as likely to occur now as they ever were, while others declare there are no miracles now because the world does not need them. This last is a very mistaken impression indeed, for if there ever was a time when mankind needed miracles to help them it is just now. The greatest miracle of all would be one that showed them how to help themselves.

Meantime a miracle is in progress day by day at this very moment at Battle Creek, Mich., if the newspaper accounts are reliable. If a miracle is something contrary to the known laws of nature, then this is one of the greatest miracles that ever occurred. A lady of the best character, Mrs. Henry Ingram of Battle Creek, has not tasted food since Feb. 18. This is vouched for by plenty of witnesses. The woman cannot take food.

What is more, 16 years ago, in 1880, she had a similar attack. After the extraction of a tooth she was seized with deadly faintness and nausea. From that time she could not eat. It is said to be a fact, as well authenticated as anything can be, that for 362 days, 3 days short of a year, not a particle of food passed her lips. When she took so much as a swallow of water during the fasting period, it was thrown out again at once.

If food is necessary to sustain the human race, how does the woman live? Where is the scientific man who can explain this case?

Proposed Army Reorganization.

It is down on the cards that next winter the United States army will be reorganized along lines proposed by Secretary of War Lamont. The reason for this change is that with the increased efficiency of modern guns and the changed tactics of modern warfare the old divisions and classifications have become obsolete.

The first change made will be an act of congress increasing our little regular army from 25,000 to 30,000. At present 25 regiments of infantry and 10 of cavalry are required. This number will remain the same, but instead of the 5 regiments of artillery now called for the number of these will be increased to 7. The 12 batteries to each artillery regiment will remain the same, and 2 batteries to each regiment may be organized and drilled as field artillery.

The most important changes will be made in the infantry regiment. Instead of the 10 companies into which, from time immemorial, each regiment has been divided, there will be 12 companies. The battalion formation is now the popular one, and the 12 companies of the regiment will be formed into 3 battalions of 4 companies each. Each battalion will be commanded by a major, so that there will be 3 majors to a regiment. Each regiment will also have 12 captains, 14 first lieutenants and 12 second lieutenants. The 2 surplus first lieutenants will serve respectively as adjutant and quartermaster.

The country certainly needs a larger army than it did 50 years ago.

Two great nations that are not in the least afraid of each other can afford to be loyal friends and mutually strengthen each other. When the American government left the case of getting justice for Hammond and the other American filibusters in South Africa in the hands of the British government, some Americans thought it was an act of pusillanimity on our part. The event showed that it was not; that it was quite safe to trust the case to England. Now comes England in turn and asks this government to use its good offices in securing fair play for Harrison, the British government surveyor who was arrested by the Venezuelans while building a road in the disputed territory. It will be also perfectly safe to leave to the United States the matter of getting justice for this Englishman. The next step, it may be hoped and believed, will be the establishment of a permanent arbitration court between the two great English speaking countries.

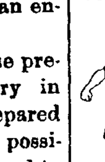

Two boys of 12 or 13 years were recently seen poring intently over a daily newspaper. They had their heads together and were oblivious to all surroundings. What intelligent boys they were to be so much interested in current events! A benevolent stranger who approved of boys reading newspapers was curious enough to want to see what it was that held their attention. He looked and found it was the Fleming murder trial. The court that tried Mrs. Fleming is, however, to be heartily commended for one thing at least—it kept the worst parts of the testimony from coming before the public. This good example ought to be oftener followed.

"Kid" Keenan tried awful hard to win yesterday's game from Fort Wayne but he could not do it. Up to the sixth inning the colts had made but one little hit off his delivery and the score stood two to nothing in favor of Toledo, but in the sixth the Fort Wayne lads struck their gait and pounded out a victory. Tebeau and King made triples, and Criger made a single that was stretched out for three bases by errors. From that time on the fusillade of base hits was enough to jar the "Kid's" nervous system.

KID KEENAN, OF TOLEDO.

Kid Keenan—There ain't more then three men on th' diamon' who kin pitch good ball
Manager—And who are they?
Kid Keenan—Well I'm one of dem and I forgit de other two.

Powell pitched a steady game and allowed the Toledos but six hits. Every man on both sides of the game played to win. The score was as follows:

CLASS LEGISLATION.

The Closing of Our Mints Against Silver.

Editor SENTINEL:

I cannot believe that those who advocate the single gold standard for this country are either fools, knaves or traitors. Their reason is based on either selfishness or ignorance, I think. We believe they are in error.

One of the arguments used by the gold standard advocates against opening our mints to the coinage of silver money is the deplorable condition of China and India. You may put all the gold in God's wide world into either of these countries and it will not benefit the people one iota. A nation that can take a jackknife and a saw log and whittle a monstrosity out of it and call it a god and worship it as such, does not stand in need of gold. It is not money these countries need; it is brains, intelligence, school houses, churches and the elevating influence of Christianity. Silver has no more to do with their lamentable condition than the wagging of the dog star's tail.

The only reason that Europe demonetized silver was because there is not a good silver mine in all Europe. She has gold and diamond mines, but no silver mines. If England owned our silver mines she would demonetize gold immediately without consulting us about it. America has just as good right to dictate to Europe what shall be the standard of value, as Europe has to dictate to America what it shall be.

Holland at one time thought she had discovered fabulously rich silver mines and she demonetized gold, but her silver mines proved failures and then she repealed the demonetization act as regards gold.

In 1860 England said we could not go to war—that we had no credit or money. We did go to war, and fought the biggest war of modern times, without credit or money, made a debt of three thousand six hundred millions of dollars, and could then sell all the bonds we desired to at 6 per cent When the war began our bonds went begging at sixteen per cent.

In the meantime coal oil and the most extensive silver mines in the world were discovered or developed. The Comstock lode presented enough silver ore to view to pay off our entire national debt.

England realized that our resources were almost inexhaustible as regards wealth and that she could not whip us with the sword. Then was formed the most treasonable conspiracy with our bankers on record to ruin this country financially, by preventing the further coinage of silver money. The people awoke to a realization of this conspiracy and forced the Bland, Allison and Sherman acts to be passed. From the formation of our government up to 1873, we had coined only 8,000,000 of silver dollars Under the act above referred to, we have coined 420,000,000 of silver coin and ought to have three times that amount coined. To open our mints to the gold miner and close them to the silver miner is class legislation in favor of the gold miner. The truth is, the bankers are trying to deprive our government of its sovereign right to say what shall constitute money. This right was conferred upon our government by the constitution of the United States.

J. W. YOUNGE, M. D.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 3d, 1896.

Commander A. E. Thomas, of Wayne Tent, No 54, Knights of Maccabees, of this city, yesterday received from the supreme order of the K. O. T. M. a draft for $3,000 which he forwarded to Mrs. Mary A. Preble, of Fostoria, for the amount of policy held by her deceased son, Marshal C. Preble, she being the beneficiary named in the policy. Mr. Preble, it will be remembered, died of typhoid fever at Cleveland, Ohio, on June 3, and thus the Maccabees have within a month met the death claim. The death of Mr. Preble is the first that has occurred among the membership of the Wayne tent since its organization in March, 1893

The spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S Knight presented a beautiful appearance last evening at the dancing party given by Messrs. Williard and Cheney Knight and Miss Elizabeth Knight. Chinese lanterns shed their soft light over the grounds, and here and there among the trees and above the platform erected for the dancing, gleamed the yellow glow of incandescent lamps Rugs and cushioned seats were scatterad about for the convenience of the guests. Reineke's men furnished the music. The evening gowns of the ladies furnished bright bits of color here and there against the background of foliage, making the scene quite kaleidoscopic in character. Ices were served during the dancing, and Seidel had charge of the refreshments in the house.

Howard Miller, the little son of Mrs. Edith Miller, is very sick.

BICYCLIST PLEASED

With the Efficiency of the Street Cleaning System.

Praises the Department for the Neatness and Dispatch With Which the Work is Performed.

Editor SENTINEL:

I noticed several days ago a letter calling attention to the condition of the streets in Fort Wayne, and also notice that apparently the entire city has, within the last day or so, been swept and cleaned. Whether or not these two instances have any bearing or relation to one another is known only to those who are initiated into the mysteries of the municipal government. We are glad, however, to notice the change and the energetic manner in which this street cleaning was taken up and pushed through, and it is to be hoped that the same will be done more frequently than heretofore. There is no reason why our city should not be a model of cleanliness, and the fact that the same has been done in so short a time demonstrates the efficiency of the system, if only the same is set to working. Trusting that in future we may have no further cause for complaint of this kind, I remain,

Yours very truly,
BICYCLIST.

LOCAL NEWS.

On account of the 4th, Rathbone Sisters will have no meeting tomorrow night.

Mabel, the three-year-old daughter of Daniel Grubb, is seriously ill with malarial fever.

Mis Mary Wright will go to Avilla this afternoon to spend the Fourth with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Derheimer left yesterday for Rome City, to occupy their summer cottage.

New wheat has not yet commenced coming into market in this city. Inquiries at the various mills this morning brought replies to the effect that no new wheat was expected to be brought in before the middle of next week. Some of the most accomplished of the newspaper correspondents in two or three surrounding towns have telegraphed out that new wheat was already in market at those places, but the stories are not much nearer the truth than some other things they send out by telegraph.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

An Early Lesson

It's all right to let the little girls have an early introduction to

SANTA CLAUS SOAP

It will not only make their clothes clean but when in late years the cares of the household come they will know best how to meet them. There are a great many women who have learned a lesson of economy and cleanliness by the use of Santa Claus. Sold everywhere. Made only by

TILLIE HARDY, OWL-EYED.

A Brooklyn Girl to Whom Daylight Is as Darkness.

The case of Tillie Hardy, a nine-year-old girl, living with her father at No. 286 Central avenue, Brooklyn, has been brought to the attention of a number of prominent medical men, and the doctors are at work trying to solve a problem, the solution of which, they say, will be of great value to science. Although it is known that the child is suffering from hemeralopia, or day blindness, there are many other things connected with the case which are interesting the doctors. Little Tillie's head is covered with silvery white hair. The eyes are changeable colors. She has the figure, though not the stature, of a grown woman, and her mental powers are remarkable. With never a day's schooling she can read and write, and is a bright accountant and ready calculator.

Among the neighbors little Tillie Hardy is known as an albino. But a physician who examined the girl said she was not of that class of individuals. The albino has eyes with the iris deficient in the black or blue or hazel pigment. But in this girl's case the iris does not lack color. The albino is also said to lack the strength of other persons. Tillie Hardy is remarkably strong. The albinos are deficient not only in physical development, but in mental capacity. But Tillie Hardy is better developed and possesses a stronger mind than 99 per cent. of the children of her age.

Customer—I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer—Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only thing I know of to cure an attack of catarrh.

Mothers, Be sure and use "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. May8eod&w days. Mr. Neill is employed in the rolling mills at his home.

The Evansville and Terre Haute is suffering in its freight earnings through the strike of the miners at coal mines on its line.

The Pennsylvania will put on a train between Eagle Lake and Warsaw tomorrow, to make the round trip every half hour.

A. J. Gibbons, late chief engineer of the Vandalia lines, will go to St. Joe, Mich., an important station, as the general agent.

Western roads have agreed to a rate of one fare for the round trip for the populist convention to be held at St. Louis July 22.

The Grand Rapids and Indiana road will run an excursion train from Portland to this city tomorrow and a large crowd is expected.

The electric works sent a 40 light arc dynamo to Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia, this morning; also a motor to parties in Boston.

J. M. Herbert has been appointed trainmaster of the Wabash at Litchfield, Ill., vice W. Cotter, who has gone to the Grand Trunk.

J. Kaiser, of the Pittsburg planing mills, is kept from his duties by the serious condition of his son, whose life hangs by a very slender thread.

The Pennsylvania railroad bridge over Eel river, east of Columbia City, will be raised Sunday in order to allow the big dredge to pass the place.

All the shops of the city will be closed tomorrow and all local freight trains will be annulled for the day. Passenger trains will run as usual.

Al Reifsnyder is able to walk, after a long illness, and called at the Pittsburg yards to see his old friends this morning. He was given a hearty reception.

Tomorrow and Sunday, L. G. Dailey, clerk at the Pittsburg shops, will have as his guests his father, T. Dailey, of Nevada, Ohio, and R. C. Miller, of Wabash.

The electric works yesterday sold a ten horse power motor to the Consolidated Street Railway company for use at the south barns in operating turn tables.

The engineers and firemen of the eastern division of the Panhandle lines will picnic at Chippewa lake, on the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, on July 18.

The Local Freight Agents' association is in session in the Union Line offices this afternoon. Agent R B. Rossington, who was at Rome City, will receive $10 and if he fails he will be out just that much cash. The route chosen makes the distance for the round trip 146 miles. It's a big undertaking, but Mr. Page feels equal to the task.

The report is revived that the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo and the Flint and Pere Marquette are to be consolidated. On July 10 the directors of the two companies will have a conference.

Engines Nos. 271, 351, 333 and 227 were turned out of the Pittsburg shops this morning, after being repaired. All are freight engines, excepting 271. Those taken in the shops today for repairs are 89 and 339.

Conductor Joseph Morgan, of the Pittsburg, was detained at home yesterday by business and his run was taken by Kinzie Kimmell. This accounts for the latter's absence from the smoker which he was to attend last night.

The three class P engines sent some months ago from the Pennsylvania road proper to the Vandalia are to be returned and rebuilt, but will probably be kept in the east, as their record on the Vandalia has not been of the best.

Transportation and train employes on the Wabash are raising no objections to General Manager Hays taking Wabash men and putting them on the Grand Trunk. Already it has resulted in a long list of promotions on the Wabash lines.

A call has been issued for the next regular meeting of the Central Passenger committee and it will be held at St. Joseph, Mich., on July 8. Immigration and second-class fares will be considered and some changes in the rules of the committee will also come up for discussion.

Agent John E. Ross, of the Pittsburg, sold thirty-eight round trip tickets to Chicago for train 37 this morning. The tickets are good returning until July 13 on account of the democratic convention and the sale continues until and including the 6th.

Three Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Mail advices received by steamer report the loss of three vessels on the Australian coast during the gales which raged throughout the night of May 23. The ill fated ships were the Byron, bound from New Castle for Sydney; the barkentine Karoela, from New Zealand to Sydney, and the schooner Coudang. Three of the crew of the Karoela were drowned, but no other lives were lost in the disasters.

such an important juncture of the party's history. He thinks that some fair and impartial democrat such as Vice President Stevenson would give satisfaction to every element of the party. It was suggested to Mr. Baughman that the vice president was not a delegate to the convention, but he says the national committee has authority to go outside the convention and select its temporary presiding officer.

TELLER FORCES RALLY.

There was a strong rally of the friends of Senator Teller today following the assertion by "Buck" Hinrichsen, of Illinois, yesterday, that the Colorado senator would not accept the nomination. The silver bolters from the St Louis convention are working like trojans to impress upon the democratic silver leaders the great advantage of Teller's nomination in solidifing all the silver elements of the west and they are being warmly supported by Mr. Taubeneck, chairman of the populist party's committee, Dr. Mott, of North Carolina, secretary of the silver party, and the representatives of the independent silver elements generally.

Taubeneck, assuming to speak for the populists, declares most emphatically unless Teller is nominated the 3,000 000 votes which he claims that organization controlls, will be cast for a candidate to be selected by the populists at their national convention in St. Louis on the 21st. The coterie of democratic silver senators who are on the ground recognize Teller's great individual strength, and his towering figure as a great champion of silver, and privately most of them would like to see him nominated, but there is a general fear that the rank and file of the democratic party would rebel against the selection of a man who so recently walked out of a republican national convention.

Nevertheless they are canvassing Teller's availability with earnestness, with all the incoming delegates and upon the result of their quiet conferences, the question of the presentation of Teller's name will depend. The influence of Governor Altgeld as the leader of the Illinois delegation makes his position on the question of the nominee of vast importance in the eyes of the democratic silver leaders, all the candidates striving for his support. So far Governor Altgeld has not committed himself, although there has been a strong impression that he favors Governor Stone, of Missouri, and that despite denials of Bland's friends, that Governor Stone could ever be induced to become a candidate with Bland in the field, that at the proper time, Stone will be brought forward.

The straight public commitment of Governor Altgeld up to date has been in favor of Judge McConnell, of this city, but it developed today that Judge McConnell is in favor of Teller's nomination. The silver men are overjoyed at this, as they believe it will materially influence Governor Altgeld. Judge McConnell is reported to have written a strong letter to Altgeld last night advocating the advisability of Teller's nomination, and the silver republicans believe it will have its effect on Altgeld.

THE TWO CHAIRMANSHIPS

In all probability Hon W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, will be temporary chairman, and Senator Harris permanent chairman of the democratic convention. Unless the present program is changed they will be designated for these places by the silver delegates. The choice has not been officially made, but the canvass, which has been in progress at the Sherman house ever since the first meeting of the representative silver democrats last Monday, has resulted in a general agreement upon the superior availability of these two men for the respective places. Mr. Bryan is believed to especially meet the requirements announced from the first that the temporary chairman must be a man who can present the issues of the campaign from the free silver standpoint in a way that will command the attention of the country and sound the key note of the campaign. He is a finished orator with a resonant voice and commanding presence. He has been spoken of as a presidential candidate, but has withdrawn from the race. It is felt that on this account and especially on account of his persistent devotion to the coinage of silver, he deserves this recognition.

Governor Stone, of Missouri, Senator-elect Money and Hon. C. S. Thomas, chairman of the Colorado delegation, are also mentioned for this position. Mr. Bryan is, however, decidedly in the lead at this time.

The silver men are hopeful today that they will be able to have the man they may select designated by the national committee. They hope to accomplish this by prevailing upon a few gold standard men in the committee to continue with the silver men and name a silver man to preside. It is said that the committee stands twenty-seven to twenty-three for gold. The change of three votes will therefore accomplish their purpose. Failing in this, the minority will, according to the orginal program, make a minority report, presenting the name of the man agreed upon for temporary chairman by the silverites.

Senator Harris is generally accepted as an ideal man for permanent chairman. He is regarded as the best authority in the country on parliamentary law and has had vast experience as a presiding officer, having been until recently president pro tem of the United States senate. It is conceded that he can have the place if he will take it, and it is believed he will accept.

John Wesseli, sr., and his wife went to Chicago this morning to remain until next Tuesday, when they will return here and immediately prepare for a three months tour of European countries. They will sail from New York on the 12th inst.

LOCAL LINES.

Miss Annie Boyles, of No. 35 Miner street, has gone to Chicago to visit her brother two weeks.

Miss Blanche Drayer, of Hartford City, was the guest of her brother, Dr. L. Park Drayer, yesterday.

Ben Heirline, of Chicago, is in the city for a few days' visit. Mrs. Heirline is also here, having come several days ago.

TIME TO RESUME.

The Young Man, His Best Girl and the Troubled Lecturer.

The young man had his best girl with him and he wanted to tell her about it. Besides he was not interested in the subject which the lecturer was discussing, "The American Indian's Use of Gourds." The girl was pretty, and to whisper into her little, pink ear was a pleasure that few young men would have resisted.

The lecturer was annoyed. It did not please him that any one should not listen attentively to his words. Not a soul in the house was making a noise except the young man, and as he had his mouth close to the girl's cheek—very close indeed—he was not particularly disorderly. But the lecturer was annoyed. Finally he said impressively: "I will pause until the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." Then he stopped.

For perhaps 30 seconds, though it seemed two minutes, the lecturer said not a word, and the young man continued to tell the girl all about the subject on which he had started. Auditors turned around and stared at him, and he was the center of interest. For a time he was oblivious of the attention that he was attracting, and then he noticed that the lecturer was silent, and that all eyes were directed on him. Then he realized what the lecturer had said about pausing until "the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." He appeared to think that he would say something, and he addressed the lecturer, saying, with great cordiality, "Go right ahead; you are not bothering me."

Then he finished the remarks which he had been addressing to the prettiest ear in the town.—New York World.

An Accommodating Spirit.

"I used to have a good deal to say about slow railroads," the drummer remarked thoughtfully, "but since a trip that I took a number of years ago away down south I don't complain any more, no matter how many liberties they happen to take with the time table."

"I have heard that they took things pretty easily in some sections of that country."

"Well, the only fault I had to find was that the railway company was too conscientious. We were going along at a very fair rate of speed, when suddenly the train slowed up and came to a standstill. I didn't see any signs of a town. In fact, the only building in sight was a farm house up on the hill. When the train started again and the brakeman came through, I asked him what was wrong.

"'There isn't anything wrong,' he answered.

"'What did the train stop for?' I inquired.

"'Oh,' said he, 'there's one of the finest springs in the state. The conductor always stops here so that we can get a drink.'

"A little further on we stopped again. I didn't say anything. I supposed there was a particularly fine piece of lanscape that they wanted to gaze at or something of that kind. But when they slowed up for the third time I got out to inquire about it. I found the brakeman putting the last rail of a fence in place.

"'Is that a part of your duty?' I asked.

"'Of course,' he answered. 'They had to run this train right through a farm owned by a lady. She belongs to one of the first families in the state, and the only gentlemanly thing for the railroad to do is to put the bars up after it when a train goes through. If we didn't, her cows would be running all over the country!'"—Detroit Free Press.

Lost.

"We lost our baby, you know."

"No. How was that?"

"He swallowed one of my collar buttons."

"Did you look under the edge of the carpet?"

Thus coldly was the world wont to hear the message of grief.—Detroit Tribune.

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, no desire for food, bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, wind in stomach and bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness, weariness, costiveness, headache, palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "tonics," "blood purifiers," "cathartics," "pills," because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else.

All these symptoms rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr. Harlandson, Dr. Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour, which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequaled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion. It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

THE PLATFORM

Now Being Moulded Into Shape.

It Will Give Finance Great Prominence,

Not Forgetting to Touch Upon Other Measures.

A Scheme to Practically Settle Matters in Caucuses.

When the Convention Meets the Work Will be Brief, but Decidedly of a Silvery Cast.

CHICAGO, July 3—Notwithstanding the convention is still four days off, there are almost continuous conferences among those who expect to be called upon to make the platform when it is made. They consist largely of the free silver leaders who are located at the Sherman house. Their plans all look to preparing a document which, while it will cover various other questions of democratic faith, will give the place of prominence to the financial declaration.

It is indeed now expected that the platform will be a silver prounciamento, setting forth the free coinage doctrine in the form of a ringing address which will appeal to the support of all silver advocates of whatever party. The gist of the plank will, however, be an unequivocal declaration for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without awaiting the action of any other nation.

The tariff plank is really giving the silver majority more concern than the financial declaration. They consider this a very delicate matter. The silver question is recognized by all as the paramount issue, but the democracy, has been so persistent in its declarations on the tariff and the republicans made it so prominent in their platform that they realize the impossibility of ignoring it. This they would gladly do if they could for this one time, because of the effect that a declaration leaning too pronouncedly towards free trade would have upon the republican silver men and populists, whose votes they hope to secure with a free silver candidate. So far as there has been an exchange of opinion, the tendency is decidedly towards a very brief and not a very pronounced declaration on this point. The leaders feel that the financial question is one requiring a declaration of principle, but that the tariff is a proper subject to play politics upon. They will probably announce adherence to democratic traditions on this subject, though in very general terms, and announce the belief that with the mintage of silver, the present tariff will produce sufficient revenue for the needs of the government. There may be a declaration for a more equitable adjustment than that contained in the present law, with the hope of reconciling the wool and lumber men of the west. The plank may even contain an implied reconcilement to protection in words indicating that any tariff, even though for revenue only is a protection to labor. Judge Powers, of the Utah delegation, has submitted from that delegation the following draft of a tariff plank:

"We favor the imposition of duties to meet the demands of the government for revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country and not to discriminate against classes and sections."

Judge Powers expresses the opinion that a declaration of this character would be satisfactory to the west and also that it would meet all the demands of the situation and of democratic faith.

It was taken substantially from a report by Secretary Walker and embodies the principles on which the Walker tariff was based.

THE GOLD STANDARD MOVEMENT.

With the exception of the active work of the local gold standard men, the movement in that direction lies dormant today and will remain in that condition until the arrival of the eastern gold standard men late this afternoon. Chairman Harrity has refused to be very active in the cause until the arrival of his eastern conferees, because as the head of the national committee he will, in a measure, have to aid in deciding what is now the knotty point between the gold standard and the silver men, the selection of a temporary chairman. On this matter there seems to be a division even among the silver men.

Senator Blackburn, an active silver man and a presidential candidate, while proclaiming against any gold standard man wielding the gavel at the convention, tempers his remarks with the statement that he is equally opposed to any gag law or the rushing of the convention by those in control. He said this morning:

"The men who are coming to fight for gold are good democrats and as such are entitled to a hearing before the convention. The republican convention gave a respectful hearing to the silver men, even though they knew that their party was to be disrupted and there is no reason why we should not do the same."

On the other hand, there are those who urge that the previous question should be moved on all motions and that the gold standard advocates should not be allowed to state their views. Chairman Harrity, who will call the convention to order, refuses to say today whether he will rule that speeches are in order or not prior to the selection of a temporary chairman. At that time no rules will have been adopted for the government of the convention, the congressional rules having to be adopted by resolution.

The silver men who are opposed to Senator Hill or any other gold standard man, say they will move the adoption of the rules prior to the selection of a chairman, but Mr. Harrity says that his only business is to call the convention together and then name the national committee's choice for temporary chairman. If the name mentioned is one that meets with the disapproval of the silver men, they will move a substitute and then move the previous question. All then depends upon whether the chairman of the national committee will recognize this call for the previous question in the absence of rules. If he refuses and the gold standard men are allowed to talk then there will doubtless be an exciting scene. The easterners have among them several skilled parliamentarians and there are also some clever men among the southern and western delegates.

The rank and file of the silver men are almost rabid in their eagerness to control and there may be great trouble. But all this surmise of approaching and apprehended trouble may be abrogated by an amicable arrangement between the national committee and the silver men. Some of the silver leaders are urging that there is no harm to come to their cause by having Hill as chairman of the temporary organization, for by a majority they can overrule his rulings. Vice Presiden Stevenson is mentioned today as a possibility and his name is received with more favor than Hill's.

NOMINATION MAY BE SETTLED IN CAUCUS.

There is talk among the free silver leaders of calling a caucus of their forces before the convention for the purpose of fixing a slate. Should this be done, Governor Altgeld's idea of a "one day" convention may be carried into effect.

W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Illinois state central committee and delegate at large, says that there is a strong sentiment among the free silver delegates now in the city in favor of such a caucus. "But even should there be no caucus," he continued, "I have an idea that the work of the convention can be wound up in a single day. As I figure it out, the silver candidates for the nomination for president will be Bland, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews and McLean. Of these, I rather incline to the belief that Boies and Bland will get the bulk of the votes and that whoever has the greatest number of votes on the first ballot will be nominated on the second. As to the gold men, I don't think we have anything to fear of them. As soon as they get here and circulate among the delegates they will have political sagacity enough to see they are in a hopeless minority and that to make a fight would be butting their heads against a brick wall with an idea of battering it down. The majority of the democrats of the country are for free silver and it has always been the policy of the democrats to allow the majority to rule."

To Mr. Hinrichsen's motion, C. S. Thomas, national committeeman from Colorado, and chairman of the delegation from that state, stands a good show of being selected temporary chairman. "It is quite possible," Mr. Hinrichsen went on to say, "that the temporary organization will be made permanent. This will be done for the purpose of expediting business"

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

It has been determined, so far as such a matter can be in advance of the meeting of the national committee, that the committee will select for temporary chairman some man who is not identified with the silver movement, although he may have leanings toward silver. It is apparent from the talk of the members of the committee who are here that they do not like the terms which the silver men laid down for the subcommittee, and they feel that the national committee should not be dictated to in this matter by some outside organization. Ben T. Cable, member of the national committee for Illinois, who was not at the meeting of the subcommittee when the delegation of silver leaders appeared there, says he is opposed to having the democratic national committee swerve from its usual custom in the selection of a temporary chairman, and if the convention does not like the committee's selection, it will have the right to vote in another man. It seems to be the opinion that the committee will be going far outside its custom to submit to a faction of the party the selection of a presiding officer.

L. Victor Baughman, of Maryland, who is the proxy for Senator Gorman on the national committee, was at the national committee headquarters today and announced that he believes in carrying out the customs of the party, and has no hesitation in saying that he believes the democratic national committee has the interests of the party too much at heart to even attempt to take any unfair advantage at

CRISIS NEAR AT HAND.

Serious Labor Troubles Occur at Cleveland.

One Man Accidentally Killed—More Trouble and Riots are Expected Tonight.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 3—Conditions at the Brown Hoisting company's works this morning indicated that the crisis was near at hand and that tonight would be the witness of one of the most serious labor troubles the city has ever experienced. Despite the riots and the killing of William Retger last evening quite a number of nonunion men appeared at the works this morning and took their places in the shops. The police were on hand in large numbers but there was no indication of immediate trouble. The feeling of unrest among the workmen in the manufacturing district is more intense than it has been at any stage of the strike Groups of men on their way to work idled along the streets to denounce the police and the soldiers The feeling against Mayor McKisson and his cabinet is very bitter.

The body of William Rettger, who was killed last night, has been removed to his father's home on Hoadley street and many of his old fellow workmen came to view the remains Many shed tears, but when the men left the house and saw the blue coats they cursed and many a threatening remark was passed. The funeral of Rettger will take place from the church of The Immaculate conception on Sunday and it will undoubtedly be one of the largest ever held in the city. Every workingman in the city will be invited to attend and invitations will also be sent to every union in northern Ohio. The men will wear the white ribbon and it is thought that they will turn out 20,000 or 30,000 men.

Rettger met his death in this way: Albert G. Saunders, a young student at Case School of Applied Science, whose father lives at No. 331 Prospect street, has been working for the Brown company during vacation for the practical knowledge it would give him. He did not leave with the non union men under police guard, but mounted his bicycle and sought to reach home alone. As he turned up Hamilton street a knot of strikers saw him and shouted to him to stop. He did not obey them and they began to throw stones and bricks at him. A brick struck him on the head and knocked him off his wheel, and he claims that after he was down they continued to stone him. Rising to his knees he drew his revolver and fired. The ball missed his assailants, sped across a vacant lot and buried itself in the breast of William Rettger, one of the strikers, who was walking through an alley with several companions Rettger was sent to a hospital, where he died in a few minutes. He was a single man, twenty-five years old, boarding on Hoadly street, and was a brother of Pitcher Rettger, of the Milwaukee base ball club

The Structural Iron Workers' union will hold a meeting today and action will be taken condemning the mayor and the police in the strongest terms. Many of the shops will close earlier today than usual in order that the men can be on hand. Several companies of militia are under arms at their various armories throughout the city and will be on the scene tonight when the men come out of the Brown works.

There is a feeling of great unrest among the employes of the Cleveland City Railway company. Last night when Company F boarded a car to go to the center of the city, the conductor promptly stepped off and refused to conduct a car which carried soldiers. The mayor's proclamation forbidding all persons from congregating in the vicinity of the Brown works, was posted in various places about the city this morning

Eugene V. Debs has been asked by telegraph to deliver the funeral oration Sunday over the remains of the striker who was shot and killed in last night's riot.

The non-union men were escorted out of the works at noon by the police without serious trouble. It was, of course, supposed by the strikers and their sympathizers that the plant would not close down until the usual hour, at 5 o'clock, and this step on the part of the company and authorities will undoubtedly prevent any further rioting today.

SOUND MONEY MEN.

The Pennsylvania Delegation En Route to Chicago.

Their Train Bears a Banner With the Legend, "Pattison and Sound Money."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 3.—The Pennsylvania delegates from this city and the eastern counties of the state, together with a number of friends, left on a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at 8:30 this morning for Chicago, to attend the democratic national convention. The train is made up of a combination baggage and refreshment car, four sleepers and a dinning car. The locomotive and cars were decorated with flags and bunting and on the side of the cars was a huge piece of canvass bearing the motto, "Pattison and sound money." Among the prominent democrats on the train are Collector of Internal Revenue Wm. H. Doyle, Surveyor of the Port P. Gray Meeksin, United States Naval Officer J. Marshal Wright; Ben. F. Meyers, of Harrisbug; W. D. Bigler, of Clearfield; J T. Lenahan, Wilkesbarre; M C Eby, Harrisburg; Col A. M. Holding, West Chester, and Magistrates Carr and Wilhoer. At Lancaster and Harrisburg other delegates will be picked up. At Tyrone, a special car having on board a party of thirty as guests of Senator J. Henry Cochrane, of Williamsport, will be attached to the train. Among the prominent party men of the state who will occupy this car are William B. Given, of Columbia; William Dent of Brookland; J. J. Reardon, of Williamsport, and Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg. All the tourists wear handsome red badges, surmounted by a white and gold cross bar, bearing the word "Pennsylvania," with a picture of ex Governor Pattison on white celluloid suspended.

BLAND'S BOOM.

The Silver Senator Will Have a Big One.

Kansas and Missouri Democrats Making Extensive Preparations to Go to Chicago.

KANSAS CITY, Mo, July 3—Extensive preparations are making to carry Missouri and Kansas Bland supporters to Chicago by the thousands. Col Joseph Mercer, delegate to the national convention from this district, left for Chicago last night to perfect arrangements for the reception of these men in Chicago. The local Bland club has already established headquarters here for the delegates and others bound for Chicago from the outlying cities and towns are being cared for. Kansas democrats who are going on what has been named the "Bland special," will arrive in Kansas City Sunday morning, and letters are being received every day by the club from Kansas and Missouri points noting the intentions of dozens of clubs to go at the same time It is estimated that the train which will leave over the Alton at 5:15 p m. Sunday next will carry fully 800 people. Three other Bland specials, one from southern Missouri and two from St. Louis, which will carry an aggregate of about 1,800 passengers, will meet the Kansas City section at Bloomington, Ill. There they will be made up into one monster train and run on to Chicago, drawn by five engines The regalia of the Bland club will be straw hats and blue satin and medallion badges with the picture of Mr. Bland suspended from a silver bar and surmounted by two eagles.

LEBANON, Mo., July 3.—Bland's friends here are supremely confident of his nomination and they are preparing headquarters from which his campaign will be conducted. Three large rooms have been secured as offices and the Western Union Telegraph company has put in two extra wires to handle the convention business and press dispatches. Mr. Bland's mail has reached large proportions and he spends half the day dictating letters. If Mr. Bland is nominated, Lebanon, it has been planned, will have the biggest celebration any town in Missouri has ever witnessed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3—The Kansas City Times, which has heretofore been pronounced in its advocacy of the gold standard and unwavering in its support of the Cleveland administration, comes out this morning with an editorial practically admitting that the silver men have already won a victory at Chicago and pledging the Times to support the nominees of the convention. In conclusion, the Times states its position in a word, as follows:

"For the democratic party, its platform and its candidates; its platform whatever it is, its candidates, whoever they may be." In addition to the editorial there appears on the first page a three column portrait of Richard P. Bland, under this caption: "For president of the United States 'Silver Dick' Bland, of Missouri"

POLICE CHANGES.

Officer Dickson Given a New Beat on Calhoun Street.

A new police arrangement was made on Calhoun street this morning Station Master Romy began work this morning and Officer Greer, who had been acting as station master, was assigned to Officer Dickson's beat from Calhoun street to Lafayette street. Bobby Dickson was given a new beat. He is now stationed all day long on Calhoun street, from the Nickel Plate to the Pittsburg depot. He is not to leave Calhoun street, but his duty is to watch the business center of the city. Most of his time is to be spent near the banks and the transfer corner. This new arrangement is a good one and Officer Dickson is the right man for the new beat.

MURDERER HUNG.

Solomon Marable Met His Fate at Farmville, Va.

FARMVILLE, Va., July 3—Solomon Marable was hanged here at 9 57 o'clock this morning for the murder of Mrs. Lucy Jane Pollard on June 11 1895. He met his fate calmly and on the scaffold reiterated his oft repeated statement that Mrs. Pollard was murdered by a white man. Death was caused by strangulation. Marable was pronounced dead eighteen and one half minutes after the drop fell, but was allowed to hang thirty five minutes The execution was in the jail and was witnessed by only a few citizens Three negro women are alleged to have been accomplices in the Pollard murder, which aroused the whole state of Virginia. Of the three, a nolle pros has been entered as to Pokey Barnes; Mary Abernathy has been sentenced to hang, but execution has been stayed by an order of court, and Mary Barnes is serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary.

PENSION DECISIONS.

Many New Points Adjudicated by the Government

In Cases Which Came Up to the Interior Department From the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, July 3—Many new points in the adjudication of pension claims are established in decisions rendered by Assistant Secretary Reynolds, of the interior department All the cases came up on appeal from the pension bureau Following is a summary of the new rulings

The widow of an additional paymaster is pensionable under section 2, act of June 27, 1890. Where shown that a soldier was sound at enlistment and died in regimental hospital of disease, the exact character and nature of the disease not being shown, the testimony being conflicting, it will be presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary that he died of disease contracted in the service and line of duty. Death resulting from the morphine habit, though contracted by using the drug, to relieve pain caused by a malady contracted in the service and line of duty, on the soldier's own responsibility, cannot be accepted as due to service in the line of duty.

Where a pension is granted to a widow on account of a minor child of her deceased husband, has been terminated because the child had attained its sixteenth year, and the child has been continously, since its sixteenth year, insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless, pension may be allowed it subject to the right as minors of other children of the deceased father to participate with it in such pension during their minority after the termination of the widow's right to pension from the date of filing application therefore subsequent to June 27, 1890, upon proof of its trouble.

Provision is made to prevent loss of pension by mistakes in applications. It is held, under the famous "June 27" act, that the pension must commence from the date of the filing of the original application, provided pensionable disability is proved. In the case of C. B. Guchess, a Michigan veteran, Judge Reynolds says, in sustaining the right of a pensioner under the June 27 act to receive a pension under the general law, the former providing sufficient guard against double payment.

"Wherever the act of June 27, 1890, is employed, it must be to the soldier's benefit. And since that benefit is liable to suffer defeat through the use of section 4715, revised statutes, to compel an election by the pensioner, such section being plainly repugnant to the act designed to convey benefit to the pensioner cannot be employed."

IMPORTANT EVENT.

Centennial Anniversary to be Held at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., July 3—Instead of formally celebrating Independence day Detroit will, a week later, celebrate the centennial anniversary of the evacuation, by the British, of Detroit and the northwest territory. The governors of all the northwestern states, with their staffs, have been invited, as have also the president and cabinet, members of the United States supreme court, most of the foreign ambassadors, and many other distinguished men. The chief orator of the day will be Governor O'Ferrall, of Virginia, who will be accompanied by his staff.

The main exercises will be held in and about the new incompleted government building, which stands upon a portion of the very sight of old Fort Lernoult, afterward called Fort Shelby, which was the structure evacuated by the British on July 11, 1796."

By this act the northwest territory first came into possession of the United States. The treaties of 1782 and '83 provided for the surrender of the western territory by the English, but the evacuation of Detroit did not take place until thirteen years later, having been delayed by protexts of unsettled claims and protests of traders. Jays final treaty, made in 1794 provided for the evacuation of Detroit on or before June 1, 1796, and the actual surrender took place July 11. The exercises will consist of unveiling a memorial tablet in the entrance of the federal building, historical addresses and Governor O'Ferral's oration and a parade of federal and state troops and naval batallions and other military and patriotic organizat ons

Case Against Sunday Ball Players.

Tebeau Acquitted by a Jury of Twelve.

The Law and the Evidence in the Case—Other Cases Will be Pushed.

The jury in the case of the state against George Tebeau, one of the Fort Wayne base ball club, against the members of which charges had been preferred for playing base ball on Sunday, was finally secured about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and consisted of the following persons

Paul Wolf, Charles Sauer, George McCrory, Simon Friestoller, Michael Kennelly, John Casbrau, Joseph Darling, Joseph Oldon, J. H. Rahe, Wm. Love, William Burke and Fred Lahmier.

Immediately after the jury had been secured Justice Taucey told them to stand up, hold up their hands and be sworn. This they did, and the justice administered to them an oath in which they solemnly obligated themselves to decide the case brought against George Tebeau according to the law and the evidence.

Prosecuting Attorney N. D Doughman then explained to them the nature of the case which had been brought against the defendant, it being for unlawfully engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday last at Lakeside park, at which an admittance was charged to those who were the spectators, and read to them the law, as laid down in the latest revised statutes of Indiana, which is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to engage in playing a game of base ball where an admittance fee is charged, or where any reward or prize, or profit, or article of value is depending upon the result of such game, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, and every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty five dollars."

The first witness called was Wes. Smith He testified that he had attended the game last Sunday; that he had paid an admittance fee at the gate, and that George Tebeau, the defendant, was one of the players. Rev. James S Ainslie, Rev. C. C. Cissell and George Waldschmidt testified to the same facts, and then Wm. Meyer, jr., the manager of the Fort Wayne base ball club, was placed on the stand for the defense, he being the only witness examined by the defendant's lawyer, Sam L. Morris. His testimony was merely to show that Tebeau was employed at a salary by the club to play during the season, and he admitted that the game was played last Sunday and that Tebeau was one of the players.

This finished the testimony and then Mr. Doughman and Mr. Morris argued the case to the jury. Mr. Morris spoke of about everything else except the facts in the case. He wandered down into South Carolina and back into the days of the Puritanical fathers and said that he taught his boy that there was nothing wrong in attending base ball games on Sunday. He believed that it was a rest and recreation, and that if there was more of this kind of Sunday recreation the world would be better and happier. He laid particular stress upon the fact that Tebeau was only an employe of the club and that therefore he should not be fined, although he was plainly guilty of having violated the Indiana statutes by engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday.

Mr. Doughman then spoke for the state. He said there were but two points in the case—what was the law, and did the defendant violate it. He again read the statute quoted above This, he said, was as plain as it could possibly be, and clearly and unmistakably covered the case on trial. The fact that the defendant did play on Sunday at a game at which an admittance fee was charged was beyond dispute and, therefore, he asked the jury to take the law and the evidence and return a verdict according to both, as by their oaths they had obligated themselves to do

The jury retired at a few minutes after 5 o'clock and were out about two hours On the first ballot they stood seven for acquittal and five for a fine At 7 o'clock a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant.

In finding for the defendant the jury undoubtedly laid aside the law and evidence and decided the case altogether upon their individual notions that there was nothing wrong in playing a game of base ball on Sunday at which an admission fee was charged The law was as plain as a big nose on a little man's face and the evidence was equally clear. Nobody could reasonably deny that, and yet Constable Lindsay's picked jury refused to be governed by either, and returned a verdict of not guilty. Lawyers generally regard the case as the biggest kind of a legal farce and a travesty on justice.

There are eight other cases pending against the members of the Fort Wayne team and nine against the members of the Saginaw team, and these, it is the intention of the prosecution, to push to trial The first of these cases will be tried next Monday morning Prosecutor Doughman will be compelled to leave the city, and J. H. Aiken, assist[...] by J. B Harper, will represent the state

FORTY-FIVE STARS

Now Dot the Blue Field on Our Flag.

The Additional One Represents the Admission of Utah Into the Sisterhood.

WASHINGTON, July 3—For the first time tomorrow the flag of the United States will float with forty five stars on its blue field, indicating the admission of Utah to the sisterhood of states General orders issued by the war and navy departments have prepared the way for the change and for some time past the flag makers have been busy in placing a new star on the flags in stock. From economical consideration the old army flags will not be retired at once, but will be replaced only as they are worn out in the service by the new ensigns In the case of the naval flag the change was more easily made, for all of these flags are made at the New York and Mare Island navy yards while those on hand on shipboard may be readily altered by the expert sail makers.

The students of the International Business college will give an entertainment this evening at the college hall in the Schmitz block. A good program has been arranged.

A grand private display of fireworks is being arranged for tomorrow night by the residents on East Washington street, between Barr and Lafayette streets. The affair will take place in the front yard of the residence of E. K. Dorr, that gentleman being assisted by Mr. Henry Beadell and others in letting off the display, which promises to be superb.

The team belonging to Diederick Rodenbeck, of Adams township, ran away on Maumee avenue yesterday morning and caused some excitement. After running wildly for several blocks, during which Mr. Rodenbeck was thrown out, the runaways dashed up against a tree at Hayden park and their flight was checked. Mr Rodenbeck was not injured beyond a few slight bruises

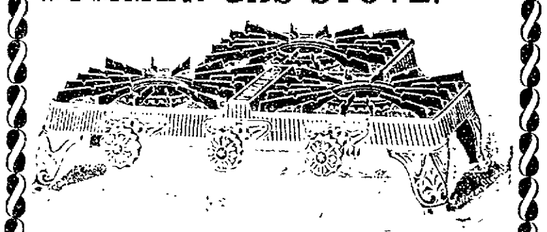

Albert Faust, an employe of the Kerr Murray works, had a narrow escape from death this morning He was hauling dirt at the corner of Columbia and Clay streets, and as he was fastening the endgate in his wagon his horses started to back and went down the river bank. Mr Faust was rolled over, but succeeded in getting out of the tangle. He cut the harness and liberated the horse, and thus saved the entire outfit from being damaged.

The Men Who Gave Us Liberty.

The Declaration of Independence, the anniversary of which we as a nation celebrate tomorrow, is taken as virtually the work of one member of the congress which adopted it, Thomas Jefferson. Various efforts have been made to attribute the authorship to Thomas Paine and possibly others, but no one familiar not merely with the writings, but the well known beliefs and convictions of Jefferson, can doubt that the Declaration was his handiwork, but the Declaration as adopted was not entirely the instrument as written. Jefferson was an easy writer with great command of written words, and his fault was redundancy. It is the Declaration pruned down, chastened, as it were, sobered and relieved of what might pass for curplusage, injudiciousness and declamation that reflects the character of the great congress which adopted it.

The expression used in the first paragraph of the Declaration throws a clear and vivid light on the individual and collective character of the "singers" "A decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires," etc. Our fathers were "decent" men and did care for the "opinions of mankind." They were not arrogant and self sufficient political theorists and know it alls; they did not claim to be inspired seers, or the apostles of a new political creed, and there is nothing in their proclamation about a new world, or a new dispensation, or a new anything to be achieved by their declaration or effort. They were sensible men resolved to proceed "decently and in order" and actuated by a "decent respect to the opinions of mankind."

The general statement of their motives and principles is followed by a "bill of particulars" in the shape of a clear and vigorous statement of the various injuries the colonies have received from the royal government, but this nowhere degenerates into degrading self-allusions. The "signers" do not speak of themselves as "down trodden" nor as "crushed," nor do they anywhere call themselves "slaves." They did not dream that any American would ever do that.

And then there is the peroration of the Declaration, "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Thus speaks the patriot and gentleman and if need be the soldier: "God for us. This is our declaration and we pledge to it and to each other our support, as men having lives of value and fortunes and sacred honor to maintain, our all, which is comprised in life, fortune and honor."

Good men, those signers of the Declaration of Independence. They stood out in the light where all men saw them. They were known, all of them, to their neighbors before they went to Philadelphia. They were not obscurities and nonentities and nobodies, scum thrown to the surface of the waves in the noise and the dark. They were not rioters and conspirators; there was no secret circular; no dagger and no dynamite about them. They were men with a "decent regard for the opinions of mankind" and who had "sacred honor" to pledge.

It would be a good and proper thought for each and every American before the day passes, if he has not time to read the Declaration of Independence itself, to at least run his eye over the brief list of the men who signed it, and reflect on what manner of men they were. For monuments most of them have the map of the United States. Their names are preserved in counties and cities and towns, in rivers that shall flow and mountains that shall stand forever; in institutions of learning and all institutions for the use and benefit of the people. The "signers," after they had performed this supreme act of their lives, lived in usefulness and honor, nearly every one distinguishing himself in the service of his country. They were ambassadors and soldiers and financiers and educators and lawyers and doctors and ministers and pioneers, and above all, founders of a great and imperishable nation which has leared the priceless lesson that the only sure foundation is the truth that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness" Having done this they rest from their labors and a world which does not remember all the names, yet follows where they led.

Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, her life, her work and her fame, belonged so entirely to a generation past that the announcement of her death awakens only reminiscences. Her literary reputation, that was at one time greater than her purely literary achievement merited, has sunk to a level much below her deserts, the not unusual penalty of one great success that overshadows work less significant yet of greater artistic endurance.

Mrs Stowe devoted many years to the practice of novel writing and the novels which she wrote in her prime, with accurate knowledge and observation of the New England life into which she was born and with well trained literary skill, were among the strongest that any American woman at that time had done; yet the whole series of them, from 'The Minister's Wooing' to 'Poganuc People," are all but forgotten today as we recall that first crude, artificial melodrama that flashed red hot from the young New England woman's imagination, stimulated by the fierce controversy amid which she lived, and lighted a flame of antislavery sentiment that was not quenched until slavery was destroyed.

It would be difficult for one reading "Uncle Tom's Cabin" now, and considering it as literature, to understand the impression that it made forty odd years ago There had been descriptions of slave life and polemics against slavery quite as outspoken, but they had reached the ears only of a few. The great mass of the people supposed them to be prejudiced or exaggerated, and at all events it was not worth while to get excited about what had always been and must be. Mrs Stowe gave to the abstract appeals of the abolitionists a concrete form and force, she made it a personal concern. She was not merely denouncing the possible wrongs of unknown masses, she was portraying the wrongs and sufferings of individuals, that appealed to the human sympathy of men and women everywhere

Not all the orators, the preachers, the pamphleteers, the journalists together, had made so far reaching an impression as was made by this scarcely known novelist. The southern people denounced the story as libelous, as in great part it doubtless was; but it hit the mark. Sedate readers in the north, less accustomed than we are now to polemical novels, regarded it coldly or with antipithy. But it was read, and discussed and talked about, and in New England and the west particularly the public accepted and believed it and took up the cause of Uncle Tom and his comrades with a fervor they never could have felt for the wrongs of an entire race.

Of all the brave soldiers in those preliminary battles against slavery in America that led up to and prepared for its final overthrow, it is thus possible to speak of Mrs. Stowe as second to none in the effectiveness of the blow she struck. Critically viewed, her success was more in time and occasion than in purpose and skill, for the sequel to "Uncle Tom" was not a success and her subsequent literary work took a different range and her later polemical efforts were altogether futile. None the less in that first fervid deliverance she fired a shot heard round the world, and she had the rare fortune to live long enough not only to gain the personal reward of her work, but to perceive its public fruits.

The conditions she described have disappeared, and if their memory survives, it is mainly through the medium of her book. She survived as well the animosities that the book excited or out of which it grew, and though her last years were clouded otherwise, the clouds could not obscure the sunshine of affectionate esteem by which she was surrounded.

A Strange Case.

The Boston Globe has had a symposium on the subject of the possibility of miracles at the present day. Most of the contributors are preachers. Some contend that miracles are just as likely to occur now as they ever were, while others declare there are no miracles now because the world does not need them. This last is a very mistaken impression indeed, for if there ever was a time when mankind needed miracles to help them it is just now. The greatest miracle of all would be one that showed them how to help themselves.

Meantime a miracle is in progress day by day at this very moment at Battle Creek, Mich., if the newspaper accounts are reliable. If a miracle is something contrary to the known laws of nature, then this is one of the greatest miracles that ever occurred. A lady of the best character, Mrs. Henry Ingram of Battle Creek, has not tasted food since Feb. 18. This is vouched for by plenty of witnesses. The woman cannot take food.

What is more, 16 years ago, in 1880, she had a similar attack. After the extraction of a tooth she was seized with deadly faintness and nausea. From that time she could not eat. It is said to be a fact, as well authenticated as anything can be, that for 362 days, 3 days short of a year, not a particle of food passed her lips. When she took so much as a swallow of water during the fasting period, it was thrown out again at once.

If food is necessary to sustain the human race, how does the woman live? Where is the scientific man who can explain this case?

Proposed Army Reorganization.

It is down on the cards that next winter the United States army will be reorganized along lines proposed by Secretary of War Lament. The reason for this change is that with the increased efficiency of modern guns and the changed tactics of modern warfare the old divisions and classifications have become obsolete.

The first change made will be an act of congress increasing our little regular army from 25,000 to 30,000. At present 25 regiments of infantry and 10 of cavalry are required. This number will remain the same, but instead of the 5 regiments of artillery now called for the number of these will be increased to 7. The 12 batteries to each artillery regiment will remain the same, and 2 batteries to each regiment may be organized and drilled as field artillery.

The most important changes will be made in the infantry regiment. Instead of the 10 companies into which, from time immemorial, each regiment has been divided, there will be 12 companies. The battalion formation is now the popular one, and the 12 companies of the regiment will be formed into 3 battalions of 4 companies each. Each battalion will be commanded by a major, so that there will be 3 majors to a regiment. Each regiment will also have 12 captains, 14 first lieutenants and 12 second lieutenants. The 2 surplus first lieutenants will serve respectively as adjutant and quartermaster.

The country certainly needs a larger army than it did 50 years ago.

Two great nations that are not in the least afraid of each other can afford to be loyal friends and mutually strengthen each other. When the American government left the case of getting justice for Hammond and the other American filibusters in South Africa in the hands of the British government, some Americans thought it was an act of pusillanimity on our part. The event showed that it was not; that it was quite safe to trust the case to England. Now comes England in turn and asks this government to use its good offices in securing fair play for Harrison, the British government surveyor who was arrested by the Venezuelans while building a road in the disputed territory. It will be also perfectly safe to leave to the United States the matter of getting justice for this Englishman The next step, it may be hoped and believed, will be the establishment of a permanent arbitration court between the two great English speaking countries.

Two boys of 12 or 13 years were recently seen poring intently over a daily newspaper. They had their heads together and were oblivious to all surroundings. What intelligent boys they were to be so much interested in current events! A benevolent stranger who approved of boys reading newspapers was curious enough to wait to see what it was that held them attention. He looked and found it was the Fleming murder trial. The court that tried Mrs. Fleming is, however, to be heartily commended for one thing at least—it kept the worst parts of the testimony from coming before the public. This good example ought to be oftener followed.

Youngstown	51	16	35	.313

"Kid" Keenan tried awful hard to win yesterday's game from Fort Wayne but he could not do it. Up to the sixth inning the colts had made but one little hit off his delivery and the score stood two to nothing in favor of Toledo, but in the sixth the Fort Wayne lads struck their gait and pounded out a victory. Tebeau and King made triples, and Criger made a single that was stretched out for three bases by errors. From that time on the fusillade of base hits was enough to jar the "Kid's" nervous system.

Powell pitched a steady game and allowed the Toledos but six hits. Every man on both sides of the game played to win The score was as follows:

INNINGS	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	—	R
Fort Wayne	0	0	0	0	0	4	2	1	0	—	10
Toledo	0	1	1	0	0	0	0	2	0	—	4

CLASS LEGISLATION.

The Closing of Our Mints Against Silver.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

I cannot believe that those who advocate the single gold standard for this country are either fools, knaves or traitors. Their reason is based on either selfishness or ignorance, I think. We believe they are in error.

One of the arguments used by the gold standard advocates against opening our mints to the coinage of silver money is the deplorable condition of China and India You may put all the gold in God's wide world into either of these countries and it will not benefit the people one iota A nation that can take a jackknife and a saw log and whittle a monstrosity out of it and call it a god and worship it as such, does not stand in need of gold It is not money these countries need; it is brains, intelligence, school houses, churches and the elevating influences of Christianity. Silver has no more to do with their lamentable condition than the wagging of the dog star's tail.

The only reason that Europe demonetized silver was because there is not a good silver mine in all Europe She has gold and dismond mines, but no silver mines. If England owned our silver mines she would demonetize gold immediately without consulting us about it. America has just as good right to dictate to Europe what shall be the standard of value, as Europe has to dictate to America what it shall be

Holland at one time thought she had discovered fabulously rich silver mines and she demonetized gold, but her silver mines proved failures and then she repealed the demonetization act as regards gold.

In 1860 England said we could not go to war—that we had no credit or money. We did go to war, and fought the biggest war of modern times, without credit or money, made a debt of three thousand six hundred millions of dollars, and could then sell all the bonds we desired to at 6 per cent When the war began our bonds went begging at sixteen per cent.

In the meantime coal oil and the most extensive silver mines in the world were discovered or developed. The Comstock lode presented enough silver ore to view to pay off our entire national debt.

England realized that our resources were almost inexhaustible as regards wealth and that she could not whip us with the sword. Then was formed the most treasonable conspiracy with our bankers on record to ruin this country financially, by preventing the further coinage of silver money. The people awoke to a realization of this conspiracy and forced the Bland, Allison and Sherman acts to be passed. From the formation of our government up to 1873, we had coined only 8,000 000 of silver dollars Under the act above referred to, we have coined 420,000 000 of silver coin and ought to have three times that amount coined. To open our mints to the gold miner and close them to the silver miner is class legislation in favor of the gold miner. The truth is, the bankers are trying to deprive our government of its sovereign right to say what shall constitute money. This right was conferred upon our government by the constitution of the United States. J. W. YOUNGE, M. D.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 3d, 1896.

Commander A. E. Thomas, of Wayne Tent, No 54, Knights of Maccabees, of this city, yesterday received from the supreme order of the K. O. T. M a draft for $3,000 which he forwarded to Mrs. Mary A Preble, of Fostoria, for the amount of policy held by her deceased son, Marshal C. Preble, she being the beneficiary named in the policy. Mr. Preble, it will be remembered, died of typhoid fever at Cleveland, Ohio, on June 3, and thus the Maccabees have within a month met the death claim. The death of Mr. Preble is the first that has occurred among the membership of the Wayne tent since its organization in March, 1893

The spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. S Knight presented a beautiful appearance last evening at the dancing party given by Messrs. Willard and Cheney Knight and Miss Elizabeth Knight. Chinese lanterns shed their soft light over the grounds, and here and there among the trees and above the platform erected for the dancing, gleamed the yellow glow of incandescent lamps Rugs and cushioned seats were scattered about for the convenience of the guests. Reineke's men furnished the music. The evening gowns of the ladies furnished bright bits of color here and there against the background of foliage, making the scene quite kaleidoscopic in character. Ices were served during the dancing, and Seidel had charge of the refreshments in the house.

Howard Miller, the little son of Mrs. Edith Miller, is very sick.

BICYCLIST PLEASED

With the Efficiency of the Street Cleaning System.

Praises the Department for the Neatness and Dispatch With Which the Work is Performed.

EDITOR SENTINEL:

I noticed several days ago a letter calling attention to the condition of the streets in Fort Wayne, and also notice that apparently the entire city has, within the last day or so, been swept and cleaned Whether or not these two instances have any bearing or relation to one another is known only to those who are initiated into the mysteries of the municipal government We are glad however, to notice the change and the energetic manner in which this street cleaning was taken up and pushed through, and it is to be hoped that the same will be done more frequently than heretofore. There is no reason why our city should not be a model of cleanliness, and the fact that the same has been done in so short a time demonstrates the efficiency of the system, if only the same is set to working Trusting that in future we may have no further cause for complaint of this kind, I remain,

Yours very truly,
BICYCLIST.

Miss Emma Campbell, daughter of E. T. Campbell, left this morning for Chicago to spend two or three weeks with her uncle.

Yesterday Christian Kohlmeyer, a well known farmer of Washington township, fell from a load of hay and broke his left arm.

George H. Schlatter, of Lafayette, will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs M. F. Schmetzer during the Fourth Mrs. Schlatter has been here some time.

James Guyer, liveryman from Hobart, Ind., was in the city yesterday looking for a man who drove away one of his rigs and failed to return it

Yesterday, while the twelve year old son of Mr. Bowman, of 39 First street, was playing, he fell upon the curb and fractured two ribs. Dr. English attended.

The Messrs. William Zurbuch, Frank Gocke, John Deppen and Ed Ollenloch left this afternoon for Chicago, where they will spend the Fourth with their old friend, Joseph P. Gerardin, who is making that place his home.

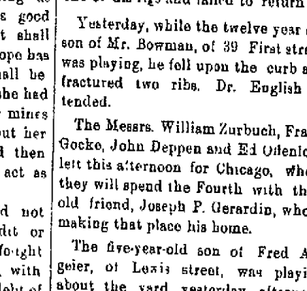

The five-year-old son of Fred Allgeier, of Lewis street, was playing about the yard yesterday afternoon when he stumbled and fell, breaking his left arm above the wrist Dr. McCausland reduced the fracture

A pleasant party was given at the home of Ernst Breimeier, of 207 West DeWald street, in honor of Miss Louise Baumgardt of Kansas City, who is visiting with her sister, Mrs Fred Breimeier, of 223 West Jefferson street.

Rev J. W. Paschall will preach at the Berry street M. E church this evening at 7.45 This service is a preparatory service for the quarterly meeting. Every member and friend of the congregation be present. C. C. Cissell, pastor.

E H. Miller, W. A. Collie, Clarence Kerr and Fred M. Grummon will go to Lake Maxinkuckee tomorrow to arrange for the Knights of the Maccabees excursion, which will run from this city on July 7. They will not return until Sunday evening.

New wheat has not yet commenced coming into market in this city Inquiries at the various mills this morning brought replies to the effect that no new wheat was expected to be brought in before the middle of next week. Some of the most accomplished of the newspaper correspondents in two or three surrounding towns have telegraphed out that new wheat was already in market at those places, but the stories are not much nearer the truth than some other things they send out by telegraph.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies then not needed. If afflicted with actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

An Early Lesson

It's all right to let the little girls have an early introduction to

SANTA CLAUS SOAP

It will not only make their clothes clean but when in late years the cares of the household come they will know best how to meet them. There are a great many women who have learned a lesson of economy and cleanliness by the use of Santa Claus. Sold everywhere. Made only by

TILLIE HARDY, OWL-EYED.

A Brooklyn Girl to Whom Daylight Is as Darkness.

The case of Tillie Hardy, a nine-year-old girl, living with her father at No. 286 Central avenue, Brooklyn, has been brought to the attention of a number of prominent medical men, and the doctors are at work trying to solve a problem, the solution of which, they say, will be of great value to science. Although it is known that the child is suffering from hemeralopia, or day blindness, there are many other things connected with the case which are interesting the doctors. Little Tillie's head is covered with silvery white hair. The eyes are changeable colors. She has the figure, though not the stature, of a grown woman, and her mental powers are remarkable. With never a day's schooling she can read and write, and is a bright accountant and ready calculator.

Among the neighbors little Tillie Hardy is known as an albino. But a physician who examined the girl said she was not of that class of individuals. The albino has eyes with the iris deficient in the black or blue or hazel pigment. But in this girl's case the iris does not lack color. The albino is also said to lack the strength of other persons. Tillie Hardy is remarkably strong. The albinos are deficient not only in physical development, but in mental capacity. But Tillie Hardy is better developed and possesses a stronger mind than 99 per cent. of the children of her age.

TILLIE HARDY AT FIVE.

Customer—I want a remedy for catarrh

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer—Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only thing I know of to cure an attack of catarrh.

Mothers, Be sure and use "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. May8eod&w days. Mr. Neill is employed in the rolling mills at his home.

The Evansville and Terre Haute is suffering in its freight earnings through the strike of the miners at coal mines on its line.

The Pennsylvania will put on a train between Eagle Lake and Warsaw tomorrow, to make the round trip every half hour.

A. J. Gibbons, late chief engineer of the Vandalia lines, will go to St. Joe, Mich., an important station, as the general agent.

Western roads have agreed to a rate of one fare for the round trip for the populist convention to be held at St. Louis July 22

The Grand Rapids and Indiana road will run an excursion train from Portland to this city tomorrow and a large crowd is expected.

The electric works sent a 40 light arc dynamo to Strawbridge & Clothier, Philadelphia, this morning; also a motor to parties in Boston.

J. M. Herbert has been appointed trainmaster of the Wabash at Litchfield, Ill., vice W. Cotter, who has gone to the Grand Trunk.

J. Kaiser, of the Pittsburg planing mills, is kept from his duties by the serious condition of his son, whose life hangs by a very slender thread.

The Pennsylvania railroad bridge over Eel river, east of Columbia City, will be raised Sunday in order to allow the big dredge to pass the place.

All the shops of the city will be closed tomorrow and all local freight trains will be annulled for the day. Passenger trains will run as usual.

Al Reifsnyder is able to walk, after a long illness, and called at the Pittsburg yards to see his old friends this morning. He was given a hearty reception

Tomorrow and Sunday, L. G. Dailey, clerk at the Pittsburg shops, will have as his guests his father, T. Dailey, of Nevada, Ohio, and R. C. Miller, of Wabash.

The electric works yesterday sold a ten horse power motor to the Consolidated Street Railway company for use at the south barns in operating turn tables.

The engineers and firemen of the eastern division of the Panhandle lines will picnic at Chippewa lake, on the Cleveland, Lorain and Wheeling, on July 18.

The Local Freight Agents' association is in session in the Union Line offices this afternoon. Agent R. B. Rossington, who was at Rome City will receive $10 and if he fails he will be out just that much cash. The route chosen makes the distance for the round trip 146 miles. It's a big undertaking, but Mr. Page feels equal to the task.

The report is revived that the Columbus, Hocking Valley and Toledo and the Flint and Pere Marquette are to be consolidated. On July 10 the directors of the two companies will have a conference.

Engines Nos. 271, 351, 333 and 227 were turned out of the Pittsburg shops this morning, after being repaired. All are freight engines, excepting 271. Those taken in the shops today for repairs are 89 and 339.

Conductor Joseph Morgan, of the Pittsburg, was detained at home yesterday by business and his run was taken by Kinzie Kimmell. This accounts for the latter's absence from the smoker which he was to attend last night.

The three class P engines sent some months ago from the Pennsylvania road proper to the Vandalia are to be returned and rebuilt, but will probably be kept in the east, as their record on the Vandalia has not been of the best.

Transportation and train employes on the Wabash are raising no objections to General Manager Hays taking Wabash men and putting them on the Grand Trunk. Already it has resulted in a long list of promotions on the Wabash lines.

A call has been issued for the next regular meeting of the Central Passenger committee and it will be held at St. Joseph, Mich., on July 8. Immigration and second-class fares will be considered and some changes in the rules of the committee will also come up for discussion.

Agent John E. Ross, of the Pittsburg, sold thirty-eight round trip tickets to Chicago for train 37 this morning. The tickets are good returning until July 13 on account of the democratic convention and the sale continues until and including the 6th.

Three Drowned.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—Mail advices received by steamer report the loss of three vessels on the Australian coast during the gales which raged throughout the night of May 23. The ill fated ships were the Byron, bound from New Castle for Sydney; the barkentine Karoela, from New Zealand to Sydney, and the schooner Coudang. Three of the crew of the Karoela were drowned, but no other lives were lost in the disasters.

such an important juncture o: the party's history. He thinks that some fair and impartial democrat such as Vice President Stevenson would give satisfaction to every element of the party. It was suggested to Mr. Baughman that the vice president was not a delegate to the convention, but he says the national committee has authority to go outside the convention and select its temporary presiding officer.

TELLER FORCES RALLY

There was a strong rally of the friends of Senator Teller today following the assertion by "Buck" Hinrich, sen, of Illinois, yesterday, that the Colorado senator would not accept the nomination. The silver bolters from the St Louis convention are working like trojans to impress upon the democratic silver leaders the great advantage of Teller's nomination in solidifing all the silver elements of the west and they are being warmly supported by Mr. Taubeneck, chairman of the populist party's committee, Dr. Mott, of North Carolina, secretary of the silver party, and the representatives of the independent silver elements generally.

Taubeneck, assuming to speak for the populists, declares most emphatically unless Teller is nominated the 3,000 000 votes which he claims that organization controlls, will be cast for a candidate to be selected by the populists at their national convention in St. Louis on the 21st. The coterie of democratic silver senators who are on the ground recognize Teller's great individual strength, and his towering figure as a great champion of silver, and privately most of them would like to see him nominated, but there is a general fear that the rank and file of the democratic party would rebel against the selection of a man who so recently walked out of a republican national convention.

Nevertheless they are canvassing Teller's availability with earnestness, with all the incoming delegates and upon the result of their quiet conferences, the question of the presentation of Teller's name will depend. The influence of Governor Altgeld as the leader of the Illinois delegation makes his position on the question of the nominee of vast importance in the eyes of the democratic silver leaders, all the candidates striving for his support. So far Governor Altgeld has not committed himself, although there has been a strong impression that he favors Governor Stone, of Missouri, and that despite denials of Bland's friends, that Governor Stone could ever be induced to become a candidate with Bland in the field, that at the proper time, Stone will be brought forward.

The straight public commitment of Governor Altgeld up to date has been in favor of Judge McConnell, of this city, but it developed today that Judge McConnell is in favor of Teller's nomination. The silver men are overjoyed at this, as they believe it will materially influence Governor Altgeld. Judge McConnell is reported to have written a strong letter to Altgeld last night advocating the advisability of Teller's nomination, and the silver republicans believe it will have its effect on Altgeld

THE TWO CHAIRMANSHIPS

In all probability Hon W. J Bryan of Nebraska, will be temporary chairman, and Senator Harris permanent chairman of the democratic convention. Unless the present program is changed they will be designated for these places by the silver delegates. The choice has not been officially made, but the canvass, which has been in progress at the Sherman house ever since the first meeting of the representative silver democrats last Monday, has resulted in a general agreement upon the superior availability of these two men for the respective places. Mr. Bryan is believed to especially meet the requirements announced from the first that the temporary chairman must be a man who can present the issues of the campaign from the free silver standpoint in a way that will command the attention of the country and sound the key note of the campaign He is a finished orator with a resonant voice and commanding presence. He has been spoken of as a presidential candidate, but has withdrawn from the race It is felt that on this account and especially on account of his persistent devotion to the coinage of silver, he deserves this recognition

Governor Stone, of Missouri, Senator-elect Money and Hon. C. S. Thomas, chairman of the Colorado delegation, are also mentioned for this position. Mr. Bryan is, however, decidedly in the lead at this time.

The silver men are hopeful today that they will be able to have the man they may select designated by the national committee. They hope to accomplish this by prevailing upon a few gold standard men in the committee to continue with the silver men and name a silver man to preside. It is said that the committee stands twenty-seven to twenty-three for gold. The change of three votes will therefore accomplish their purpose. Failing in this, the minority will, according to the orginal program, make a minority report, presenting the name of the man agreed upon for temporary chairman by the silverites.

Senator Harris is generally accepted as an ideal man for permanent chairman. He is regarded as the best authority in the country on parliamentary law and has had vast experience as a presiding officer, having been until recently president pro tem of the United States senate. It is conceded that he can have the place if he will take it, and it is believed he will accept.

John Wessell, sr., and his wife went to Chicago this morning to remain until next Tuesday, when they will return here and immediately prepare for a three months tour of European countries. They will sail from New York on the 12th inst.

TIME TO RESUME.

The Young Man, His Best Girl and the Troubled Lecturer.

The young man had his best girl with him and he wanted to tell her about it. Besides he was not interested in the subject which the lecturer was discussing, "The American Indian's Use of Gourds." The girl was pretty, and to whisper into her little, pink ear was a pleasure that few young men would have resisted.

The lecturer was annoyed. It did not please him that any one should not listen attentively to his words. Not a soul in the house was making a noise except the young man, and as he had his mouth close to the girl's cheek—very close indeed—he was not particularly disorderly. But the lecturer was annoyed. Finally he said impressively: "I will pause until the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." Then he stopped.

For perhaps 30 seconds, though it seemed two minutes, the lecturer said not a word, and the young man continued to tell the girl all about the subject on which he had started. Auditors turned around and stared at him, and he was the center of interest. For a time he was oblivious of the attention that he was attracting, and then he noticed that the lecturer was silent, and that all eyes were directed on him. Then he realized what the lecturer had said about pausing until "the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." He appeared to think that he would say something, and he addressed the lecturer, saying, with great cordiality, "Go right ahead; you are not bothering me."

Then he finished the remarks which he had been addressing to the prettiest ear in the town.—New York World.

An Accommodating Spirit.

"I used to have a good deal to say about slow railroads," the drummer remarked thoughtfully, "but since a trip that I took a number of years ago away down south I don't complain any more, no matter how many liberties they happen to take with the time table."

"I have heard that they took things pretty easily in some sections of that country."

"Well, the only fault I had to find was that the railway company was too conscientious. We were going along at a very fair rate of speed, when suddenly the train slowed up and came to a standstill. I didn't see any signs of a town. In fact, the only building in sight was a farm house up on the hill. When the train started again and the brakeman came through, I asked him what was wrong.

"'There isn't anything wrong,' he answered.

"'What did the train stop for?' I inquired.

"'Oh,' said he, 'there's one of the finest springs in the state. The conductor always stops here so that we can get a drink.'

"A little further on we stopped again. I didn't say anything. I supposed there was a particularly fine piece of lanscape that they wanted to gaze at or something of that kind. But when they slowed up for the third time I got out to inquire about it. I found the brakeman putting the last rail of a fence in place.

"'Is that a part of your duty?' I asked.

"'Of course,' he answered. 'They had to run this train right through a farm owned by a lady. She belongs to one of the first families in the state, and the only gentlemanly thing for the railroad to do is to put the bars up after it when a train goes through. If we didn't, her cows would be running all over the country!'"—Detroit Free Press.

Lost.

"We lost our baby, you know."

"No. How was that?"

"He swallowed one of my collar buttons."

"Did you look under the edge of the carpet?"

Thus coldly was the world wont to hear the message of grief.—Detroit Tribune.

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, no desire for food, bad taste in the mouth, especially in the morning, acid in stomach and bowels, irritable disposition, nervous weakness, weariness, costiveness, headache, palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "pimples," "blood purifiers," "cathartics," "spells," because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else

All these symptoms rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr Buchanan, Dr Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequaled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

It is customary for women to measure yard lengths by their thumbs. The expression "sixteen nails make a yard" seems to point to the thumbnail as a standard, just as the words "Cluze Patent Thumb" point to the Cluze Glove as the established model of perfection.

A glove that preserves and improves trade is the standard that supports a glove department. Such is the Cluze Patent Thumb.

THE PLATFORM

Now Being Moulded Into Shape.

It Will Give Finance Great Prominence,

Not Forgetting to Touch Upon Other Measures.

A Scheme to Practically Settle Matters in Caucuses.

When the Convention Meets the Work Will be Brief, but Decidedly of a Silvery Cast.

CHICAGO, July 3.—Notwithstanding the convention is still four days off, there are almost continuous conferences among those who expect to be called upon to make the platform when it is made. They consist largely of the free silver leaders who are located at the Sherman house. Their plans all look to preparing a document which, while it will cover various other questions of democratic faith, will give the place of prominence to the financial declaration.

It is indeed now expected that the platform will be a silver pronunciamento, setting forth the free coinage doctrine in the form of a ringing address which will appeal to the support of all silver advocates of whatever party. The gist of the plank will, however, be an unequivocal declaration for the free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without awaiting the action of any other nation.

The tariff plank is really giving the silver majority more concern than the financial declaration. They consider this a very delicate matter. The silver question is recognized by all as the paramount issue, but the democracy, has been so persistent in its declarations on the tariff and the republicans made it so prominent in their platform that they realize the impossibility of ignoring it. This they would gladly do if they could for this one time, because of the effect that a declaration leaning too pronouncedly towards free trade would have upon the republican silver men and populists, whose votes they hope to secure with a free silver candidate. So far as there has been an exchange of opinion, the tendency is decidedly towards a very brief and not a very pronounced declaration on this point. The leaders feel that the financial question is one requiring a declaration of principle, but that the tariff is a proper subject to play politics upon. They will probably announce adherence to democratic traditions on this subject, though in very general terms, and announce the belief that with the mintage of silver, the present tariff will produce sufficient revenue for the needs of the government. There may be a declaration for a more equitable adjustment than that contained in the present law, with the hope of reconciling the wool and lumber men of the west. The plank may even contain an implied reconcilement to protection in words indicating that any tariff, even though for revenue only is a protection to labor. Judge Powers, of the Utah delegation, has submitted from that delegation the following draft of a tariff plank:

"We favor the imposition of duties to meet the demands of the government for revenue, such duties to be so adjusted as to operate equally throughout the country and not to discriminate against classes and sections."

Judge Powers expresses the opinion that a declaration of this character would be satisfactory to the west and also that it would meet all the demands of the situation and of democratic faith.

It was taken substantially from a report by Secretary Walker and embodies the principles on which the Walker tariff was based.

THE GOLD STANDARD MOVEMENT.

With the exception of the active work of the local gold standard men, the movement in that direction lies dormant today and will remain in that condition until the arrival of the eastern gold standard men late this afternoon. Chairman Harrity has refused to be very active in the cause until the arrival of his eastern conferees, because as the head of the national committee he will, in a measure, have to aid in deciding what is now the knotty point between the gold standard and the silver men, the selection of a temporary chairman. On this matter there seems to be a division even among the silver men.

Senator Blackburn, an active silver man and a presidential candidate, while proclaiming against any gold standard man wielding the gavel at the convention, tempers his remarks with the statement that he is equally opposed to any gag law or the rushing of the convention by those in control. He said this morning:

"The men who are coming to fight for gold are good democrats and as such are entitled to a hearing before the convention. The republican convention gave a respectful hearing to the silver men, even though they knew that their party was to be disrupted and there is no reason why we should not do the same."

On the other hand, there are those who urge that the previous question should be moved on all motions and that the gold standard advocates should not be allowed to state their views. Chairman Harrity, who will call the convention to order, refuses to say today whether he will rule that speeches are in order or not prior to the selection of a temporary chairman. At that time no rules will have been adopted for the government of the convention, the congressional rules having to be adopted by resolution.

The silver men who are opposed to Senator Hill or any other gold standard man, say they will move the adoption of the rules prior to the selection of a chairman, but Mr. Harrity says that his only business is to call the convention together and then name the national committee's choice for temporary chairman. If the name mentioned is one that meets with the disapproval of the silver men, they will move a substitute and then move the previous question. All then depends upon whether the chairman of the national committee will recognize this call for the previous question in the absence of rules. If he refuses and the gold standard men are allowed to talk then there will doubtless be an exciting scene. The easterners have among them several skilled parliamentarians and there are also some clever men among the southern and western delegates.

The rank and file of the silver men are almost rabid in their eagerness to control and there may be great trouble. But all this surmise of approaching and apprehended trouble may be abrogated by an amicable arrangement between the national committee and the silver men. Some of the silver leaders are urging that there is no harm to come to their cause by having Hill as chairman of the temporary organization, for by a majority they can overrule his rulings. Vice President Stevenson is mentioned today as a possibility and his name is received with more favor than Hill's.

NOMINATION MAY BE SETTLED IN CAUCUS.

There is talk among the free silver leaders of calling a caucus of their forces before the convention for the purpose of fixing a slate. Should this be done, Governor Altgeld's idea of a "one day" convention may be carried into effect.

W. H. Hinrichsen, chairman of the Illinois state central committee and delegate at large, says that there is a strong sentiment among the free silver delegates now in the city in favor of such a caucus. "But even should there be no caucus," he continued, "I have an idea that the work of the convention can be wound up in a single day. As I figure it out, the silver candidates for the nomination for president will be Bland, Boies, Blackburn, Matthews and McLean. Of these, I rather incline to the belief that Boies and Bland will get the bulk of the votes and that whoever has the greatest number of votes on the first ballot will be nominated on the second. As to the gold men, I don't think we have anything to fear of them. As soon as they get here and circulate among the delegates they will have political sagacity enough to see they are in a hopeless minority and that to make a fight would be butting their heads against a brick wall with an idea of battering it down. The majority of the democrats of the country are for free silver and it has always been the policy of the democrats to allow the majority to rule."

To Mr. Hinrichsen's motion, C. S. Thomas, national committeeman from Colorado, and chairman of the delegation from that state, stands a good show of being selected temporary chairman. "It is quite possible," Mr. Hinrichsen went on to say, "that the temporary organization will be made permanent. This will be done for the purpose of expediting business."

TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.

It has been determined, so far as such a matter can be in advance of the meeting of the national committee, that the committee will select for temporary chairman some man who is not identified with the silver movement, although he may have leanings toward silver. It is apparent from the talk of the members of the committee who are here that they do not like the terms which the silver men laid down for the subcommittee, and they feel that the national committee should not be dictated to in this matter by some outside organization. Ben T. Cable, member of the national committee for Illinois, who was not at the meeting of the subcommittee when the delegation of silver leaders appeared there, says he is opposed to having the democratic national committee swerve from its usual custom in the selection of a temporary chairman, and if the convention does not like the committee's selection, it will have the right to vote in another man. It seems to be the opinion that the committee will be going far outside its custom to submit to a faction of the party the selection of a presiding officer.

L. Victor Baughman, of Maryland, who is the proxy for Senator Gorman on the national committee, was at the national committee headquarters today and announced that he believes in carrying out the customs of the party, and has no hesitation in saying that he believes the democratic national committee has the interests of the party too much at heart to even attempt to take any unfair advantage at

CRISIS NEAR AT HAND.

Serious Labor Troubles Occur at Cleveland.

One Man Accidentally Killed—More Trouble and Riots are Expected Tonight.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 3.—Conditions at the Brown Hoisting company's works this morning indicated that the crisis was near at hand and that tonight would be the witness of one of the most serious labor troubles the city has ever experienced. Despite the riots and the killing of William Retger last evening quite a number of nonunion men appeared at the works this morning and took their places in the shops. The police were on hand in large numbers but there was no indication of immediate trouble. The feeling of unrest among the workmen in the manufacturing district is more intense than it has been at any stage of the strike. Groups of men on their way to work idled along the streets to denounce the police and the soldiers. The feeling against Mayor McKisson and his cabinet is very bitter.

The body of William Rettger, who was killed last night, has been removed to his father's home on Hoadley street and many of his old fellow workmen came to view the remains. Many shed tears, but when the men left the house and saw the blue coats they cursed and many a threatening remark was passed. The funeral of Rettger will take place from the church of The Immaculate conception on Sunday and it will undoubtedly be one of the largest ever held in the city. Every workingman in the city will be invited to attend and invitations will also be sent to every union in northern Ohio. The men will wear the white ribbon and it is thought that they will turn out 20,000 or 30,000 men.

Rettger met his death in this way: Albert G. Saunders, a young student at Case School of Applied Science, whose father lives at No. 331 Prospect street, has been working for the Brown company during vacation for the practical knowledge it would give him. He did not leave with the non union men under police guard, but mounted his bicycle and sought to reach home alone. As he turned up Hamilton street a knot of strikers saw him and shouted to him to stop. He did not obey them and they began to throw stones and bricks at him. A brick struck him on the head and knocked him off his wheel, and he claims that after he was down they continued to stone him. Rising to his knees he drew his revolver and fired. The ball missed his assailants, sped across a vacant lot and buried itself in the breast of William Rettger, one of the strikers, who was walking through an alley with several companions. Rettger was sent to a hospital, where he died in a few minutes. He was a single man, twenty-five years old, boarding on Hoadly street, and was a brother of Pitcher Rettger, of the Milwaukee base ball club.

The Structural Iron Workers' union will hold a meeting today and action will be taken condemning the mayor and the police in the strongest terms. Many of the shops will close earlier today than usual in order that the men can be on hand. Several companies of militia are under arms at their various armories throughout the city and will be on the scene tonight when the men come out of the Brown works.

There is a feeling of great unrest among the employes of the Cleveland City Railway company. Last night when Company F boarded a car to go to the center of the city, the conductor promptly stepped off and refused to conduct a car which carried soldiers. The mayor's proclamation forbidding all persons from congregating in the vicinity of the Brown works, was posted in various places about the city this morning.

Eugene V. Debs has been asked by telegraph to deliver the funeral oration Sunday over the remains of the striker who was shot and killed in last night's riot.

The non-union men were escorted out of the works at noon by the police without serious trouble. It was, of course, supposed by the strikers and their sympathizers that the plant would not close down until the usual hour, at 5 o'clock, and this step on the part of the company and authorities will undoubtedly prevent any further rioting today.

SOUND MONEY MEN.

The Pennsylvania Delegation En Route to Chicago.

Their Train Bears a Banner With the Legend, "Pattison and Sound Money."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 3.—The Pennsylvania delegates from this city and the eastern counties of the state, together with a number of friends, left on a special train over the Pennsylvania railroad at 8:30 this morning for Chicago, to attend the democratic national convention. The train is made up of a combination baggage and refreshment car, four sleepers and a dinning car. The locomotive and cars were decorated with flags and bunting and on the side of the cars was a huge piece of canvass bearing the motto, "Pattison and sound money." Among the prominent democrats on the train are Collector of Internal Revenue Wm. H. Doyle, Surveyor of the Port P. Gray Meeksin, United States Naval Officer J. Marshal Wright, Ben F. Meyers, of Harrisburg, W. D. Bigler, of Clearfield; J. T. Lenahan, Wilkes barre, M. C. Eby, Harrisburg; Col. A. M. Holding, West Chester, and Magistrates Carr and Wilhere. At Lancaster and Harrisburg other delegates will be picked up. At Tyrone, a special car having on board a party of thirty as guests of Senator J. Henry Cochrane, of Williamsport, will be attached to the train. Among the prominent party men of the state who will occupy this car are William B. Given, of Columbia, William Dent, of Brookland; J. J. Reardon, of Williamsport, and Grant Herring, of Bloomsburg. All the tourists wear handsome red badges, surmounted by a white and gold cross bar, bearing the word "Pennsylvania," with a picture of ex Governor Pattison on white celluloid suspended.

BLAND'S BOOM.

The Silver Senator Will Have a Big One.

Kansas and Missouri Democrats Making Extensive Preparations to Go to Chicago.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—Extensive preparations are making to carry Missouri and Kansas Bland supporters to Chicago by the thousands. Col. Joseph Mercer, delegate to the national convention from this district, left for Chicago last night to perfect arrangements for the reception of these men in Chicago. The local Bland club has already established headquarters here for the delegates and others bound for Chicago from the outlying cities and towns are being cared for. Kansas democrats who are going on what has been named the "Bland special," will arrive in Kansas City Sunday morning, and letters are being received every day by the club from Kansas and Missouri points noting the intentions of dozens of clubs to go at the same time. It is estimated that the train which will leave over the Alton at 5:45 p. m. Sunday next will carry fully 800 people. Three other Bland specials, one from southern Missouri and two from St. Louis, which will carry an aggregate of about 1,500 passengers, will meet the Kansas City section at Bloomington, Ill. There they will be made up into one monster train and run on to Chicago, drawn by five engines. The regalia of the Bland club will be straw hats and blue satin and medallion badges with the picture of Mr. Bland suspended from a silver bar and surmounted by two eagles.

LEBANON, Mo., July 3.—Bland's friends here are supremely confident of his nomination and they are preparing headquarters from which his campaign will be conducted. Three large rooms have been secured as offices and the Western Union Telegraph company has put in two extra wires to handle the convention business and press dispatches. Mr. Bland's mail has reached large proportions and he spends half the day dictating letters. If Mr. Bland is nominated, Lebanon, it has been planned, will have the biggest celebration any town in Missouri has ever witnessed.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 3.—The Kansas City Times, which has heretofore been pronounced in its advocacy of the gold standard and unwavering in its support of the Cleveland administration, comes out this morning with an editorial practically admitting that the silver men have already won a victory at Chicago and pledging the Times to support the nominee of the convention. In conclusion, the Times states its position in a word, as follows:

"For the democratic party, its platform and its candidates; its platform whatever it is, its candidates, whoever they may be." In addition to the editorial there appears on the first page a three column portrait of Richard P. Bland, under this caption: "For president of the United States 'Silver Dick' Bland, of Missouri."

POLICE CHANGES.

Officer Dickson Given a New Beat on Calhoun Street.

A new police arrangement was made on Calhoun street this morning. Station Master Romy began work this morning and Officer Greer, who had been acting as station master, was assigned to Officer Dickson's beat from Calhoun street to Lafayette street. Bobby Dickson was given a new beat. He is now stationed all day long on Calhoun street, from the Nickel Plate to the Pittsburg depot. He is not to leave Calhoun street, but his duty is to watch the business center of the city. Most of his time is to be spent near the banks and the transfer corner. This new arrangement is a good one and Officer Dickson is the right man for the new beat.

MURDERER HUNG.

Solomon Marable Met His Fate at Farmville, Va.

FARMVILLE, Va., July 3.—Solomon Marable was hanged here at 9:57 o'clock this morning for the murder of Mrs. Lucy Jane Pollard on June 11 1895. He met his fate calmly and on the scaffold reiterated his oft repeated statement that Mrs. Pollard was murdered by a white man. Death was caused by strangulation. Marable was pronounced dead eighteen and one half minutes after the drop fell, but was allowed to hang thirty five minutes. The execution was in the jail and was witnessed by only a few citizens. Three negro women are alleged to have been accomplices in the Pollard murder, which aroused the whole state of Virginia. Of the three, a nolle pros has been entered as to Pokey Barnes, Mary Abernathy has been sentenced to hang but execution has been stayed by an order of court, and Mary Barnes is serving a ten years' sentence in the penitentiary.

PENSION DECISIONS.

Many New Points Adjudicated by the Government

In Cases Which Came Up to the Interior Department From the Pension Bureau.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Many new points in the adjudication of pension claims are established in decisions rendered by Assistant Secretary Reynolds, of the interior department. All the cases came up on appeal from the pension bureau. Following is a summary of the new rulings.

The widow of an additional paymaster is pensionable under section 4, act of June 27, 1890. Where shown that a soldier was sound at enlistment and died in regimental hospital of disease, the exact character and nature of the disease not being shown, the testimony being conflicting, it will be presumed in the absence of evidence to the contrary that he died of disease contracted in the service and line of duty. Death resulting from the morphine habit, though contracted by using the drug, to relieve pain caused by a malady contracted in the service and line of duty, on the soldier's own responsibility, cannot be accepted as due to service in the line of duty.

Where a pension is granted to a widow on account of a minor child of her deceased husband, has been terminated because the child had attained its sixteenth year, and the child has been continously, since its sixteenth year, insane, idiotic or otherwise permanently helpless, pension may be allowed it subject to the right as minors of other children of the deceased father to participate with it in such pension during their minority after the termination of the widow's right to pension from the date of filing application therefore subsequent to June 27, 1890, upon proof of its trouble.

Provision is made to prevent loss of pension by mistakes in applications. It is held, under the famous "June 27" act, that the pension must commence from the date of the filing of the original application, provided pensionable disability is proved. In the case of C. B. Gushess, a Michigan veteran, Judge Reynolds says, in sustaining the right of a pensioner under the June 27 act to receive a pension under the general law, the former providing sufficient guard against double payment:

"Wherever the act of June 27, 1890, is employed, it must be to the soldier's benefit. And since that benefit is liable to suffer defeat through the use of section 4715, revised statutes, to compel an election by the pensioner, such section being plainly repugnant to the act designed to convey benefit to the pensioner cannot be employed."

IMPORTANT EVENT.

Centennial Anniversary to be Held at Detroit.

DETROIT, Mich., July 3.—Instead of formally celebrating Independence day Detroit will, a week later, celebrate the centennial anniversary of the evacuation, by the British, of Detroit and the northwest territory. The governors of all the northwestern states, with their staffs, have been invited, as have also the president and cabinet, members of the United States supreme court, most of the foreign ambassadors, and many other distinguished men. The chief orator of the day will be Governor O'Ferrall, of Virginia, who will be accompanied by his staff.

The main exercises will be held in and about the new incomplete government building, which stands upon a portion of the very sight of old Fort Lernoult, afterward called Fort Shelby, which was the structure evacuated by the British on July 11, 1796."

By this act the northwest territory first came into possession of the United States. The treaties of 1782 and '83 provided for the surrender of the western territory by the English, but the evacuation of Detroit did not take place until thirteen years later, having been delayed by pretexts of unsettled claims and protests of traders. Jays final treaty, made in 1791 provided for the evacuation of Detroit on or before June 1, 1796, and the actual surrender took place July 11. The exercises will consist of unveiling a memorial tablet in the entrance of the federal building, historical addresses and Governor O'Ferrall's oration and a parade of federal and state troops and naval batallions and other military and patriotic organizations.

WAS A FARCE.

Case Against Sunday Ball Players.

Tebeau Acquitted by a Jury of Twelve.

The Law and the Evidence in the Case—Other Cases Will be Pushed.

The jury in the case of the state against George Tebeau, one of the Fort Wayne base ball club, against the members of which charges had been preferred for playing base ball on Sunday, was finally secured about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and consisted of the following persons.

Paul Wolf, Charles Sauer, George McCrory, Simon Friestotter, Michael Konnelly, John Cashrau, Joseph Darling, Joseph Oldon, J. H. Rahe, Wm Love, William Burke and Fred Lahmer.

Immediately after the jury had been secured Justice Tancey told them to stand up, hold up their hands and be sworn. This they did, and the justice administered to them an oath in which they solemnly obligated themselves to decide the case brought against George Tebeau according to the law and the evidence.

Prosecuting Attorney N. D. Doughman then explained to them the nature of the case which had been brought against the defendant, it being for unlawfully engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday last at Lakeside park, at which an admittance was charged to those who were the spectators, and read to them the law, as laid down in the latest revised statutes of Indiana, which is as follows:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to engage in playing a game of base ball where an admittance fee is charged, or where any reward or prize, or profit, or article of value is depending upon the result of such game, on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, and every person so offending shall be deemed guilty of misdemeanor, and, upon conviction, shall be fined in any sum not exceeding twenty five dollars."

The first witness called was Wes. Smith. He testified that he had attended the game last Sunday; that he had paid an admittance fee at the gate, and that George Tebeau, the defendant, was one of the players. Rev. James S. Ainslie, Rev. C. C. Cissell and George Waldschmidt testified to the same facts, and then Wm. Meyer, jr., the manager of the Fort Wayne base ball club, was placed on the stand for the defense, he being the only witness examined by the defendant's lawyer, Sam L. Morris. His testimony was merely to show that Tebeau was employed at a salary by the club to play during the season, and he admitted that the game was played last Sunday and that Tebeau was one of the players.

This finished the testimony and then Mr. Doughman and Mr. Morris argued the case to the jury. Mr. Morris spoke of about everything else except the facts in the case. He wandered down into South Carolina and back into the days of the Puritanical fathers and said that he taught his boy that there was nothing wrong in attending base ball games on Sunday. He believed that it was a rest and recreation, and that if there was more of this kind of Sunday recreation the world would be better and happier. He laid particular stress upon the fact that Tebeau was only an employe of the club and that therefore he should not be fined, although he was plainly guilty of having violated the Indiana statutes by engaging in the playing of a game of base ball on Sunday.

Mr. Doughman then spoke for the state. He said there were but two points in the case—what was the law, and did the defendant violate it. He again read the statute quoted above. This, he said, was as plain as it could possibly be, and clearly and unmistakably covered the case on trial. The fact that the defendant did play on Sunday at a game at which an admittance fee was charged was beyond dispute and, therefore, he asked the jury to take the law and the evidence and return a verdict according to both, as by their oaths they had obligated themselves to do.

The jury retired at a few minutes after 5 o'clock and were out about two hours. On the first ballot they stood seven for acquittal and five for a fine. At 7 o'clock a verdict was returned in favor of the defendant.

In finding for the defendant the jury undoubtedly laid aside the law and evidence and decided the case altogether upon their individual notions that there was nothing wrong in playing a game of base ball on Sunday at which an admission fee was charged. The law was as plain as a big nose on a little man's face and the evidence was equally clear. Nobody could reasonably deny that, and yet Constable Lindsay's picked jury refused to be governed by either, and returned a verdict of not guilty. Lawyers generally regard the case as the biggest kind of a legal farce and a travesty on justice.

There are eight other cases pending against the members of the Fort Wayne team and nine against the members of the Saginaw team and these, it is the intention of the prosecution, to push to trial. The first of these cases will be tried next Monday morning. Prosecutor Doughman will be compelled to leave the city, and C. H. Aiken, assisted by J. B. Harper, will represent the state.

FORTY-FIVE STARS

Now Dot the Blue Field on the Flag.

The Additional One Represents the Admission of Utah Into the Sisterhood.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—For the first time tomorrow the flag of the United States will float with forty five stars on its blue field, indicating the admission of Utah to the sisterhood of states. General orders issued by the war and navy departments have prepared the way for the change and for some time past the flag makers have been busy in placing a new star on the flags in stock. From economical consideration the old army flags will not be retired at once, but will be replaced only as they are worn out in the service by the new ensigns. In the case of the naval flag the change was more easily made, for all of these flags are made at the New York and Mare Island navy yards while those on hand on shipboard may be readily altered by the expert flag makers.

BICYCLE RACES.

The State L. A. W. Meet Opens Here Today.

There are hundreds of bicyclists in the city today to attend the annual race meet of the Indiana division of the L. A. W. The race program begins this afternoon at the Fort Wayne Driving park. The races include all district and state championships. The program of the races and the list of prizes, as well as the arrangements for the meet have all been published in THE SENTINEL.

JOHN MOHR, JR.

He is Now in Italy and Writes a Sentinel Letter.

Mr. John Mohr, jr., the cashier of the Hamilton National bank of this city, who is making a pleasure tour of Europe, writes THE SENTINEL a letter from Pisa, Italy, which we will publish tomorrow. Mr. Mohr is a versatile, interesting writer and his letter will be generally read.

LOCAL LINES

Dr. J. H. Kappel will go to Chicago Monday to attend the national convention.

Mr. and Mrs. George Quidore have returned from a two weeks' outing at Rome City.

Mrs. T. Stegmeyer and little daughter will leave today to spend a week in Chicago with her parents.

C. M. Dodge, superintendent of the Foster Furniture factory, has gone to Grand Rapids, Mich., for a few days.

Mr. Ramsey, of South Dakota, is visiting relatives in this city and county. He is accompanied by his little daughter.

The K. of P. lodges of this city are arranging for a joint excursion and basket picnic at Robison park on a date yet to be determined.

Miss Vernie McKee, of Erie, Pa., is in the city on her way to spend the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. M. J. Browand, at Rome City.

John Schoodler, a drunk, was arrested by Officer Truebenbach on Broadway, last night, and this morning Mayor Scherer sent him to jail for eleven days.

Rabbi Hirschberg and Herman Freiburger left today for Chicago. Rabbi Hirschberg will return in about two weeks and continue his visit with friends here.

Orange and black, the colors of the Triangle Cycle club, under whose auspices the state bicycle race meet is being held, are conspicuous throughout the city today.

The students of the International Business college will give an entertainment this evening at the college hall in the Schmitz block. A good program has been arranged.

A grand private display of fireworks is being arranged for tomorrow night by the residents on East Washington street, between Barr and Lafayette streets. The affair will take place in the front yard of the residence of E. K. Dorr, that gentleman being assisted by Mr. Henry Beadell and others in letting off the display, which promises to be superb.

The team belonging to Diederick Rodenbeck, of Adams township, ran away on Maumee avenue yesterday morning and caused some excitement. After running wildly for several blocks, during which Mr. Rodenbeck was thrown out, the runaways dashed up against a tree at Hayden park and their flight was checked. Mr. Rodenbeck was not injured beyond a few slight bruises.

Albert Faust, an employe of the Kerr Murray works, had a narrow escape from death this morning. He was hauling dirt at the corner of Columbia and Clay streets, and as he was fastening the endgate in his wagon his horses started to back and went down the river bank. Mr. Faust was rolled over, but succeeded in getting out of the tangle. He cut the harness and liberated the horse and thus saved the entire outfit from being damaged.

Go to Miss Flick's tomorrow and drink ice cream soda among the beautiful flowers and palms. This is the coolest and most delightful place in the city on a warm day. All crushed fruits [illegible] NOON [illegible]. Remember the place, [illegible] West Berry street.

The Men Who Gave Us Liberty.

The Declaration of Independence, the anniversary of which we as a nation celebrate tomorrow, is taken as virtually the work of one member of the congress which adopted it, Thomas Jefferson. Various efforts have been made to attribute the authorship to Thomas Paine and possibly others, but no one familiar not merely with the writings, but the well known beliefs and convictions of Jefferson, can doubt that the Declaration was his handiwork, but the Declaration as adopted was not entirely the instrument as written. Jefferson was an easy writer with great command of written words, and his fault was redundancy. It is the Declaration pruned down, chastened, as it were, sobered and relieved of what might pass for surplusage, injudiciousness and declamation that reflects the character of the great congress which adopted it.

The expression used in the first paragraph of the Declaration throws a clear and vivid light on the individual and collective character of the "singers" "A decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires," etc Our fathers were "decent" men and did care for the "opinions of mankind." They were not arrogant and self sufficient political theorists and know it alls; they did not claim to be inspired seers, or the apostles of a new political creed, and there is nothing in their proclamation about a new world, or a new dispensation, or a new anything to be achieved by their declaration or effort. They were sensible men resolved to proceed "decently and in order" and actuated by a "decent respect to the opinions of mankind."

The general statement of their motives and principles is followed by a "bill of particulars" in the shape of a clear and vigorous statement of the various injuries the colonies have received from the royal government, but this nowhere degenerates into degrading self allusions. The "signers" do not speak of themselves as "down trodden" nor as "crushed," nor do they anywhere call themselves "slaves." They did not dream that any American would ever do that.

And then there is the peroration of the Declaration, "And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the Protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our lives, our fortunes and our sacred honor."

Thus speaks the patriot and gentleman and it need be the soldier "God for us. This is our declaration and we pledge to it and to each other our support, as men having lives of value and fortunes and sacred honor to maintain, our all, which is comprised in life, fortune and honor."

Good men, these signers of the Declaration of Independence. They stood out in the light where all men saw them. They were known, all of them, to their neighbors before they went to Philadelphia. They were not obscurities and nonentities and nobodies, scum thrown to the surface of the waves in the noise and the dark. They were not rioters and conspirators; there was no secret circular; no dagger and no dynamite about them. They were men with a "decent regard for the opinions of mankind" and who had "sacred honor" to pledge.

It would be a good and proper thought for each and every American before the day passes, if he has not time to read the Declaration of Independence itself, to at least run his eye over the brief list of the men who signed it, and reflect on what manner of men they were. For monuments most of them have the map of the United States. Their names are preserved in counties and cities and towns, in rivers that shall flow and mountains that shall stand forever; in institutions of learning and all institutions for the use and benefit of the people. The "signers," after they had performed this supreme act of their lives, lived in usefulness and honor, nearly every one distinguishing himself in the service of his country. They were ambassadors and soldiers and financiers and educators and lawyers and doctors and ministers and pioneers, and above all, founders of a great and imperishable nation which has learned the priceless lesson that the only sure foundation is the truth that all men are created equal and endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are "Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness." Having done this they rest from their labors and a world which does not remember all the names, yet follows where they led.

Harriet Beecher Stowe.

Harriet Beecher Stowe, her life, her work and her fame, belonged so entirely to a generation past that the announcement of her death awakens only reminiscences. Her literary reputation, that was at one time greater than her purely literary achievement merited, has sunk to a level much below her deserts, the not unusual penalty of one great success that overshadows work less significant yet of greater artistic endurance.

Mrs Stowe devoted many years to the practice of novel writing and the novels which she wrote in her prime, with accurate knowledge and observation of the New England life into which she was born and with well trained literary skill, were among the strongest that any American woman at that time had done, yet the whole series of them, from "The Minister's Wooing" to "Poganuc People," are all but forgotten today as we recall that first crude, artificial melodrama that flashed red hot from the young New England woman's imagination, stimulated by the fierce controversy amid which she lived, and lighted a flame of antislavery sentiment that was not quenched until slavery was destroyed.

It would be difficult for one reading "Uncle Tom's Cabin" now, and considering it as literature, to understand the impression that it made forty odd years ago. There had been descriptions of slave life and polemics against slavery quite as outspoken, but they had reached the ears only of a few. The great mass of the people supposed them to be prejudiced or exaggerated, and at all events it was not worth while to get excited about what had always been and must be. Mrs Stowe gave to the abstract appeals of the abolitionists a concrete form and force, she made it a personal concern. She was not merely denouncing the possible wrongs of unknown masses, she was portraying the wrongs and sufferings of individuals that appealed to the human sympathy of men and women everywhere.

Not all the orators, the preachers, the pamphleteers, the journalists together, had made so far reaching an impression as was made by this scarcely known novelist. The southern people denounced the story as libelous, as in great part it doubtless was; but it hit the mark. Sedate readers in the north, less accustomed than we are now to polemical novels, regarded it coldly or with antipathy. But it was read, and discussed and talked about, and in New England and the west particularly the public accepted and believed it and took up the cause of Uncle Tom and his comrades with a fervor they never could have felt for the wrongs of an entire race.

Of all the brave soldiers in those preliminary battles against slavery in America that led up to and prepared for its final overthrow, it is thus possible to speak of Mrs. Stowe as second to none in the effectiveness of the blow she struck. Critically viewed, her success was more in time and occasion than in purpose and skill, for the sequel to "Uncle Tom" was not a success and her subsequent literary work took a different range and her later polemical efforts were altogether futile. None the less in that first fervid deliverance she fired a shot heard round the world, and she had the rare fortune to live long enough not only to gain the personal reward of her work, but to perceive its public fruits.

The conditions she described have disappeared, and if their memory survives, it is mainly through the medium of her book. She survived as well the animosities that the book excited or out of which it grew, and though her last years were clouded otherwise, the clouds could not obscure the sunshine of affectionate esteem by which she was surrounded.

A Strange Case.

The Boston Globe has had a symposium on the subject of the possibility of miracles at the present day. Most of the contributors are preachers. Some contend that miracles are just as likely to occur now as they ever were, while others declare there are no miracles now because the world does not need them. This last is a very mistaken impression indeed, for if there ever was a time when mankind needed miracles to help them it is just now. The greatest miracle of all would be one that showed them how to help themselves.

Meantime a miracle is in progress day by day at this very moment at Battle Creek, Mich., if the newspaper accounts are reliable. If a miracle is something contrary to the known laws of nature, then this is one of the greatest miracles that ever occurred. A lady of the best character, Mrs. Henry Ingram of Battle Creek, has not tasted food since Feb 18. This is vouched for by plenty of witnesses. The woman cannot take food.

What is more, 16 years ago, in 1880, she had a similar attack. After the extraction of a tooth she was seized with deadly faintness and nausea. From that time she could not eat. It is said to be a fact, as well authenticated as anything can be, that for 362 days, 3 days short of a year, not a particle of food passed her lips. When she took so much as a swallow of water during the fasting period, it was thrown out again at once.

If food is necessary to sustain the human race, how does the woman live? Where is the scientific man who can explain this case?

Proposed Army Reorganization.

It is down on the cards that next winter the United States army will be reorganized along lines proposed by Secretary of War Lamont. The reason for this change is that with the increased efficiency of modern guns and the changed tactics of modern warfare the old divisions and classifications have become obsolete.

The first change made will be an act of congress increasing our little regular army from 25,000 to 30,000. At present 25 regiments of infantry and 10 of cavalry are required. This number will remain the same, but instead of the 5 regiments of artillery now called for the number of these will be increased to 7. The 12 batteries to each artillery regiment will remain the same, and 2 batteries to each regiment may be organized and drilled as field artillery.

The most important changes will be made in the infantry regiment. Instead of the 10 companies into which, from time immemorial, each regiment has been divided, there will be 13 companies. The battalion formation is now the popular one, and the 12 companies of the regiment will be formed into 3 battalions of 4 companies each. Each battalion will be commanded by a major, so that there will be 3 majors to a regiment. Each regiment will also have 12 captains, 14 first lieutenants and 12 second lieutenants. The 2 surplus first lieutenants will serve respectively as adjutant and quartermaster.

The country certainly needs a larger army than it did 50 years ago.

Two great nations that are not in the least afraid of each other can afford to be loyal friends and mutually strengthen each other. When the American government left the case of getting justice for Hammond and the other American filibusters in South Africa in the hands of the British government, some Americans thought it was an act of pusillanimity on our part. The event showed that it was not, that it was quite safe to trust the case to England. Now comes England in turn and asks this government to use its good offices in securing fair play for Harrison, the British government surveyor who was arrested by the Venezuelans while building a road in the disputed territory. It will be also perfectly safe to leave to the United States the matter of getting justice for this Englishman. The next step, it may be hoped and believed, will be the establishment of a permanent arbitration court between the two great English speaking countries.

CLASS LEGISLATION.

The Closing of Our Mints Against Silver.

Editor SENTINEL:

I cannot believe that those who advocate the single gold standard for this country are either fools, knaves or traitors. Their reason is based on either selfishness or ignorance, I think. We believe they are in error.

One of the arguments used by the gold standard advocates against opening our mints to the coinage of silver money is the deplorable condition of China and India. You may put all the gold in God's wide world into either of these countries and it will not benefit the people one iota. A nation that can take a jackknife and a saw log and whittle a monstrosity out of it and call it a god and worship it as such, does not stand in need of gold. It is not money these countries need, it is brains, intelligence, school houses, churches and the elevating influence of Christianity. Silver has no more to do with their lamentable condition than the wagging of the dog star's tail.

The only reason that Europe demonetized silver was because there is not a good silver mine in all Europe. She has gold and diamond mines, but no silver mines. If England owned our silver mines she would demonetize gold immediately without consulting us about it. America has just as good right to dictate to Europe what shall be the standard of value, as Europe has to dictate to America what it shall be.

Holland at one time thought she had discovered fabulously rich silver mines and she demonetized gold, but her silver mines proved failures and then she repealed the demonetization act as regards gold.

In 1860 England said we could not go to war—that we had no credit or money. We did go to war, and fought the biggest war of modern times, without credit or money, made a debt of three thousand six hundred millions of dollars, and could then sell all the bonds we desired to at 6 per cent. When the war began our bonds went begging at sixteen per cent.

In the meantime coal oil and the most extensive silver mines in the world were discovered or developed. The Comstock lode presented enough silver ore to view to pay off our entire national debt.

England realized that our resources were almost inexhaustible as regards wealth and that she could not whip us with the sword. Then was formed the most treasonable conspiracy with our bankers on record to ruin this country financially, by preventing the further coinage of silver money. The people awoke to a realization of this conspiracy and forced the Bland, Allison and Sherman acts to be passed. From the formation of our government up to 1873, we had coined only 8 000 000 of silver dollars. Under the act above referred to, we have coined 420,000 000 of silver coin and ought to have three times that amount coined. To open our mints to the gold miner and close them to the silver miner is class legislation in favor of the gold miner. The truth is, the bankers are trying to deprive our government of its sovereign right to say what shall constitute money. This right was conferred upon our government by the constitution of the United States.

J. W. YOUNGE, M. D.

Fort Wayne, Ind., July 3d, 1896.

Commander A. E. Thomas, of Wayne Tent, No 54, Knights of Maccabees, of this city, yesterday received from the supreme order of the K. O. T. M a draft for $3,000 which he forwarded to Mrs. Mary A. Preble, of Fostoria, for the amount of policy held by her deceased son, Marshal C. Preble, she being the beneficiary named in the policy. Mr. Preble, it will be remembered, died of typhoid fever at Cleveland, Ohio, on June 3, and thus the Maccabees have within a month met the death claim. The death of Mr. Preble is the first that has occurred among the membership of the Wayne tent since its organization in March, 1893.

The spacious lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs C. S Knight presented a beautiful appearance last evening at the dancing party given by Messrs Willard and Cheney Knight and Miss Elizabeth Knight. Chinese lanterns shed their soft light over the grounds, and here and there among the trees and above the platform erected for the dancing, gleamed the yellow glow of incandescent lamps. Rugs and cushioned seats were scattered about for the convenience of the guests. Reineke's men furnished the music. The evening gowns of the ladies furnished bright bits of color here and there against the background of foliage, making the scene quite kaleidoscopic in character. Ices were served during the dancing, and Seidel had charge of the refreshments in the house.

BICYCLIST PLEASED

With the Efficiency of the Street Cleaning System.

Praises the Department for the Neatness and Dispatch With Which the Work Is Performed.

Editor SENTINEL:

I noticed several days ago a letter calling attention to the condition of the streets in Fort Wayne, and also notice that apparently the entire city has, within the last day or so, been swept and cleaned. Whether or not these two instances have any bearing or relation to one another is known only to those who are initiated into the mysteries of the municipal government. We are glad however, to notice the change and the energetic manner in which this street cleaning was taken up and pushed through, and it is to be hoped that the same will be done more frequently than heretofore. There is no reason why our city should not be a model of cleanliness, and the fact that the same has been done in so short a time demonstrates the efficiency of the system, if only the same is set to working. Trusting that in future we may have no further cause for complaint of this kind, I remain,

Yours very truly,

BICYCLIST.

LOCAL NEWS.

On account of the 4th Rathbone Sisters will have no meeting tomorrow night.

Mabel, the three-year-old daughter of Daniel Grubb, is seriously ill with malarial fever.

Mrs. Mary Wright will go to Avilla this afternoon to spend the Fourth with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs Joseph Derheimer left yesterday for Rome City, to occupy their summer cottage.

Miss Emma Campbell, daughter of E. T. Campbell, left this morning for Chicago to spend two or three weeks with her uncle.

Yesterday Christian Kohlmeyer, a well known farmer of Washington township, fell from a load of hay and broke his left arm.

George H. Schlatter, of Lafayette, will be the guest of Mr and Mrs. M. F. Schmetzer during the Fourth Mrs. Schlatter has been here some time.

James Guyer, liveryman from Hobart, Ind., was in the city yesterday looking for a man who drove away one of his rigs and failed to return it.

Yesterday, while the twelve year old son of Mr. Bowman, of 39 First street, was playing, he fell upon the curb and fractured two ribs. Dr. English attended.

The Messrs. William Zurbuch, Frank Gocke, John Deppen and Ed Ofenloch left this afternoon for Chicago, where they will spend the Fourth with their old friend, Joseph P. Gerardin, who is making that place his home.

The five-year-old son of Fred Allgeier, of Lewis street, was playing about the yard yesterday afternoon when he stumbled and fell, breaking his left arm above the wrist. Dr. McCausland reduced the fracture.

Rev J. W. Paschall will preach at the Berry street M. E church this evening at 7.45. This service is a preparatory service for the quarterly meeting. Every member and friend of the congregation be present. C. C. Cissell, pastor.

E. H. Miller, W. A. Collie, Clarence Kerr and Fred M. Grummon will go to Lake Maxinkuckee tomorrow to arrange for the Knights of the Maccabees excursion, which will run from this city on July 7. They will not return until Sunday evening.

New wheat has not yet commenced coming into market in this city. Inquiries at the various mills this morning brought replies to the effect that no new wheat was expected to be brought in before the middle of next week. Some of the most accomplished of the newspaper correspondents in two or three surrounding towns have telegraphed out that new wheat was already in market at those places, but the stories are not much nearer the truth than some other things they send out by telegraph.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

TILLIE HARDY, OWL-EYED.

A Brooklyn Girl to Whom Daylight Is as Darkness.

The case of Tillie Hardy, a nine-year-old girl, living with her father at No. 286 Central avenue, Brooklyn, has been brought to the attention of a number of prominent medical men, and the doctors are at work trying to solve a problem, the solution of which, they say, will be of great value to science. Although it is known that the child is suffering from hemeralopia, or day blindness, there are many other things connected with the case which are interesting the doctors. Little Tillie's head is covered with silvery white hair. The eyes are changeable colors. She has the figure, though not the stature, of a grown woman, and her mental powers are remarkable. With never a day's schooling she can read and write, and is a bright accountant and ready calculator.

Among the neighbors little Tillie Hardy is known as an albino. But a physician who examined the girl said she was not of that class of individuals. The albino has eyes with the iris deficient in the black or blue or hazel pigment. But in this girl's case the iris does not lack color. The albino is also said to lack the strength of other persons. Tillie Hardy is remarkably strong. The albinos are deficient not only in physical development, but in mental capacity. But Tillie Hardy is better developed and possesses a stronger mind than 99 per cent. of the children of her age.

TILLIE HARDY AT FIVE.

Customer—I want a remedy for catarrh.

Drug Clerk—All right, sir. Here's a blood tonic that is advertised to build up the constitution.

Customer—Young man, do you think I'm going to dose myself with a blood tonic for months, just on the chance of it doing me some good? Not much! I want immediate relief; besides, catarrh is a local affection, and no tonic or blood purifier ever made can cure it. Here's 50 cents. Let me have Ely's Cream Balm. It's the only thing I know of to cure an attack of catarrh.

Mothers, Be sure and use "Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for your children while cutting teeth. It is the best remedy of all. May8eod&w

such an important juncture o' the party's history. He thinks that some fair and impartial democrat such as Vice President Stevenson would give satisfaction to every element of the party. It was suggested to Mr. Baughman that the vice president was not a delegate to the convention, but he says the national committee has authority to go outside the convention and select its temporary presiding officer.

TELLER FORCES RALLY

There was a strong rally of the friends of Senator Teller today following the assertion by "Buck" Hinrichsen, of Illinois, yesterday, that the Colorado senator would not accept the nomination The silver bolters from the St Louis convention are working like trojans to impress upon the democratic silver leaders the great advantage of Teller's nomination in solidifing all the silver elements of the west and they are being warmly supported by Mr. Taubeneck, chairman of the populist party's committee, Dr. Mott, of North Carolina, secretary of the silver party, and the representatives of the independent silver elements generally.

Taubeneck, assuming to speak for the populists, declares most emphatically unless Teller is nominated the 3,000 000 votes which he claims that organization controlls, will be cast for a candidate to be selected by the populists at their national convention in St. Louis on the 21st. The coterie of democratic silver senators who are on the ground recogniz Teller's great individual strength, and his towering figure as a great champion of silver, and privately most of them would like to see him nominated, but there is a general fear that the rank and file of the democratic party would rebel against the selection of a man who so recently walked out of a republican national convention.

Nevertheless they are canvassing Teller's availability with earnestness, with all the incoming delegates and upon the result o' their quiet conferences, the question of the presentation o' Teller's name will depend. The influence of Governor Altgeld as the leader of the Illinois delegation makes his position on the question of the nominee of vast importance in the eyes of the democratic silver leaders, all the candidates striving for his support. So far Governor Altgeld has not committed himself, although there has been a strong impression that he favors Governor Stone, of Missouri, and that despite denials of Bland's friends, that Governor Stone could ever be induced to become a candidate with Bland in the field, that at the proper time, Stone will be brought forward

The straight public commitment of Governor Altgeld up to date has been in favor of Judge McConnell, of this city, but it developed today that Judge McConnell is in favor of Teller's nomination. The silver men are overjoyed at this, as they believe it will materially influence Governor Altgeld. Judge McConnell is reported to have written a strong letter to Altgeld last night advocating the advisability of Teller's nomination, and the silver republicans believe it will have its effect on Altgeld.

THE TWO CHAIRMANSHIPS

In all probability Hon W. J. Bryan of Nebraska, will be temporary chairman, and Senator Harris permanent chairman of the democratic convention. Unless the present program is changed they will be designated for these places by the silver delegates. The choice has not been officially made, but the canvass, which has been in progress at the Sherman house ever since the first meeting of the representative silver democrats last Monday, has resulted in a general agreement upon the superior availability of these two men for the respective places. Mr. Bryan is believed to especially meet the requirements announced from the first that the temporary chairman must be a man who can present the issues of the campaign from the free silver standpoint in a way that will command the attention of the country and sound the key note of the campaign He is a finished orator with a resonant voice and commanding presence. He has been spoken of as a presidential candidate, but has withdrawn from the race It is felt that on this account and especially on account o' his persistent devotion to the coinage of silver, he deserves this recognition.

Governor Stone, of Missouri, Senator-elect Money and Hon. C. S. Thomas, chairman of the Colorado delegation, are also mentioned for this position. Mr. Bryan is, however, decidedly in the lead at this time.

The silver men are hopeful today that they will be able to have the man they may select designated by the national committee. They hope to accomplish this by prevailing upon a few gold standard men in the committee to continue with the silver men and name a silver man to preside. It is said that the committee stands twenty-seven to twenty-three for gold. The change of three votes will therefore accomplish their purpose. Failing in this, the minority will, according to the orginal program, make a minority report, presenting the name of the man agreed upon for temporary chairman by the silverites.

Senator Harris is generally accepted as an ideal man for permanent chairman. He is regarded as the best authority in the country on parliamentary law and has had vast experience as a presiding officer, having been until recently president pro tem of the United States senate. It is conceded that he can have the place if he will take it, and it is believed he will accept

TIME TO RESUME.

The Young Man, His Best Girl and the Troubled Lecturer.

The young man had his best girl with him and he wanted to tell her about it. Besides he was not interested in the subject which the lecturer was discussing, "The American Indian's Use of Gourds." The girl was pretty, and to whisper into her little, pink ear was a pleasure that few young men would have resisted.

The lecturer was annoyed. It did not please him that any one should not listen attentively to his words. Not a soul in the house was making a noise except the young man, and as he had his mouth close to the girl's cheek—very close indeed—he was not particularly disorderly. But the lecturer was annoyed. Finally he said impressively: "I will pause until the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." Then he stopped.

For perhaps 30 seconds, though it seemed two minutes, the lecturer said not a word, and the young man continued to tell the girl all about the subject on which he had started. Auditors turned around and stared at him, and he was the center of interest. For a time he was oblivious of the attention that he was attracting, and then he noticed that the lecturer was silent, and that all eyes were directed on him. Then he realized what the lecturer had said about pausing until "the young man in the back part of the house stops talking." He appeared to think that he would say something, and he addressed the lecturer, saying, with great cordiality, "Go right ahead; you are not bothering me."

Then he finished the remarks which he had been addressing to the prettiest ear in the town.—New York World.

An Accommodating Spirit.

"I used to have a good deal to say about slow railroads," the drummer remarked thoughtfully, "but since a trip that I took a number of years ago away down south I don't complain any more, no matter how many liberties they happen to take with the time table."

"I have heard that they took things pretty easily in some sections of that country."

"Well, the only fault I had to find was that the railway company was too conscientious. We were going along at a very fair rate of speed, when suddenly the train slowed up and came to a standstill. I didn't see any signs of a town. In fact, the only building in sight was a farm house up on the hill. When the train started again and the brakeman came through, I asked him what was wrong.

"'There isn't anything wrong,' he answered.

"'What did the train stop for?' I inquired.

"'Oh,' said he, 'there's one of the finest springs in the state. The conductor always stops here so that we can get a drink.'

"A little further on we stopped again. I didn't say anything. I supposed there was a particularly fine piece of landscape that they wanted to gaze at or something of that kind. But when they slowed up for the third time I got out to inquire about it. I found the brakeman putting the last rail of a fence in place.

"'Is that a part of your duty?' I asked.

"'Of course,' he answered. 'They had to run this train right through a farm owned by a lady. She belongs to one of the first families in the state, and the only gentlemanly thing for the railroad to do is to put the bars up after it when a train goes through. If we didn't, her cows would be running all over the country!'"—Detroit Free Press.

Lost.

"We lost our baby, you know."

"No. How was that?"

"He swallowed one of my collar buttons."

"Did you look under the edge of the carpet?"

Thus coldly was the world wont to hear the message of grief.—Detroit Tribune.

HOT WEATHER DYSPEPSIA.

Thousands Suffer From It at This Season of the Year.

Hot weather dyspepsia may be recognized by the following symptoms: Depression of spirits, heaviness and pain in the stomach after meals, loss of flesh and appetite, nausea, [illegible] palpitation, heartburn. It is a mistake to treat such troubles with "bitters," "blood purifiers," "cathartics," [illegible] because the whole trouble is in the stomach. It is indigestion or dyspepsia and nothing else.

All these [illegible] rapidly disappear when the stomach is relieved, strengthened, and cleansed by Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They should be taken after meals and a few carried in the pocket to be used whenever any pain or distress is felt in the stomach. They are prepared only for stomach troubles.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are endorsed by such physicians as Dr. Harlandson, Dr. Jennison, and Dr. Mayer, because they contain the natural digestive acids and fruit essences which when taken into the stomach cause the prompt digestion of the food before it has time to ferment and sour, which is the cause of the mischief.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are pleasant to take and unequaled for invalids, children and every person afflicted with imperfect digestion. It is safe to say they will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Nearly all the druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages at 50 cents. A book on stomach troubles and thousands of testimonials sent free by addressing Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.
